

CLARENCEVILLE

Mrs. Fred Menke.

PHONE 2872

At the Clarenceville M. E. Church Sunday evening, November 11 at 7:30, the famous musical choir of Detroit, consisting of 30 male voices will give a musical program. The Rev. Dr. Atkins of Birmingham M. E. Church will give the address. All are invited to attend.

The Edgewood Rebekah Degree staff attended the Hazel Park Rebekah Lodge Thursday evening when they put on the degree work.

Mrs. James Breer will entertain the Cheerful Circle Tuesday afternoon.

Frazier Schweitzer is in Harper Hospital where he underwent an operation on his leg. Helen Schweitzer was absent from school for several days on account of a bad cold.

The T. T. C. A. will hold a pedo party at the Hall Friday evening.

Billy Sonnenburg spent the week end at Highland Lake with Fred Menke Jr.

Mrs. R. A. Lyman of Birwood avenue, Detroit, visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prew of Middle Belt road Sunday.

Mrs. Wilkerson of Poncianna boulevard, entertained the Cheerful Circle Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hughes and family of Flint spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aldrich.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Landis and family of Clyde, Mich., visited at the Aldrich home Sunday.

Mrs. Sonnenburg of Park boulevard, entertained the Blue Bird Circle at a dinner at her home Wednesday at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. McFarland are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Patricia Ann, born Friday, November 2.

Chester Brakefield of Detroit was a guest at the Clarence Aldrich home Sunday.

By the time the members of a committee have eaten lunch and learned the purpose of the meeting it's time to adjourn.

Life is something like continuous vaudeville—half the people are looking around for "This Way Out" and the other half for "This Way In."

"GANG WAR" MELODRAMA

"HIT" TO BE IN DETROIT FOR RUN OF ONE WEEK

Willard Mack's melodramatic hit, "Gang War," will be the splendid attraction at the Shubert Detroit Opera House for one week only, beginning next Sunday night, November 11. It comes here with the original New York cast, direct from a run at the Morocco and the Harris Theatres.

For rapid-fire action and superb thrills, "Gang War" is said to hold all records. It is an up-to-the-minute play based on gangland's terrific warfare waged today in many of America's large cities, notably Chicago. Willard Mack, the author and also the producer and stage director, is one of the best-known of American writers of melodrama.

The cast which will present this latest Mack offering is the same that played the piece during the New York run. Among its members are Anne Forrest, Walter Gilbert, Beatrice Nichols, Robert Middlesmas, Donald Kirk, Louis Malletti, Harry Albright, Louis Kimball, Wilma Lanyon and others.

During the limited one week run at the Shubert Detroit, popular prices will be in order, no seat selling for more than $2.50 at any evening performance. The best seats at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees are priced at 50 cents to $1.50.

New Circuits For Portland

Because of the increased number of Long Distance telephone calls out of Portland, Me., three additional direct circuits to New York have been installed, making in all a total of seven such direct circuits. An average of about 2,000 toll calls a day is now made in Portland, of which about 35% go to Boston.

The people of this country complete over 3,000,000 telephone toll conversations daily.
