The recent sale of upward of 1,000 1928 model Oakland and Pontiac cars in Detroit and vicinity was but a matter of hours, C. H. Dunham, of Farmington Oakland-Pontiac Sales said this week.

"The cars remaining in this area, including some in our own showroom, were advertised in the newspapers at a reduced price," said Mr. Dunham. "Buyers appeared almost as soon as the advertisements were out, and the entire 1,000 cars were disposed of more quickly than we would have believed possible."

ULTRA-VIOLET RAYS OF SUNLIGHT HELP

Children Playing in Their Sun Suits.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Children seek sunshiny places to play in almost as instinctively as kittens look for warm pleasant spots where the sun's rays help them to doze contentedly. Both children and other young growing things need the unobstructed ultra-violet rays of sunlight to keep them well and help them develop normally. Children, however, must be specially dressed for sunbaths, in such a way that the largest possible area of skin surface may be reached by the beneficial rays.
The little sun suits shown in the picture have been designed by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture to meet this requirement. Cool, thin print is used in one case, with very short, loose legs and comfortable shoulder straps which are broad enough to prevent slipping down.
Legs, armholes, and neck are finished with a flat binding. This garment is cut from a romper pattern having a fold in the crotch. It is roomy and loose all over, with specially good length from neck to crotch. A matching hat or short-backed sun bonnet could be made to protect the little girl's eyes from glare during the hot part of the day.
The other little suit is more boyish in cut, with short trunks or trousers of opaque white material buttoned to a waist of heavy net, reinforced by flat straps. This type of waist allows the ultra-violet rays to reach even more of a child's skin than the printed fabrics. It is necessary to accustom children gradually to their sunbaths, by exposing them for a short time each day when the temperature is 50 degrees Fahrenheit or more, until they acquire a coat of tan.

CLUB GIRLS LIKE ORDERLY CLOSETS

Old Broomstick Used to Hold Clothes Hangers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The girl in the illustration is a member of one of the 4-H clubs in room improvement directed by the United States Department of Agriculture and the various agricultural colleges. She has made certain changes in her room at the suggestion of the club agent, including the rearrangement of her clothes closet. Freshly painted woodwork and furniture, a rearranged floor, and new covers for her bed and other pieces of furniture were also a part of the improvement she effected. In the closet, which she wanted to make orderly and attractive, she put a lengthwise pole made of an old broomstick, and provided as many clothes hangers as she needed, to economize space and keep her garments fresh and unwarmed.
Having the closet arranged so that it was just as easy to put things away as to throw them, on the bed or a chair, was a direct help in curing this girl of some untidy habits she had developed. Many mothers have doubtless found it difficult to train their daughters to be neat at home, and perhaps the reason is a lack of suitable ways of keeping order.

Making the Closet Orderly.

During the warm months when there are several dresses in the wash for each girl or woman in the family, and a great many for the little ones who wear cotton rompers or blower dresses entirely, it is a good plan to keep a supply of hangers downstairs near the ironing board. As each garment is pressed it can be hung on a hanger and placed on a line or a clothes horse until it is dry and well aired.

Strawberry Shortcake

Strawberry shortcake for breakfast, made with or without plain cream makes a delicious variant of the ordinary diet. With it should be served either a glass of milk or a dish of cottage cheese to make it a more complete meal. This is an ideal breakfast or lunch for children, as well as a very satisfactory change for Sunday night supper.

Orange Sherbet Always Refreshing in Summer

Ices and sherbets made of fresh fruit juices are always refreshing in hot weather. If egg white is beaten into the mixture after it has been partly frozen the mixture is more fluffy and creamy in texture and to many people less blindingly cold than a plain ice. These fresh fruit desserts have the merit of contributing to the day's supply of vitamins. This recipe for orange sherbet is from the bureau of home economics:

2 1/2 cups orange juice 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup lemon juice 1 egg white

Strain the fruit juices, add the sugar and salt, and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Freeze with a mixture of 1 part of salt to 4 to 6 parts of ice. Turn the crank slowly until the mixture is partly frozen, then quickly add the beaten white of egg, and continue to turn the crank until the ice is firm. Remove the dasher, press the contents solidly into the can, cover with waxed paper and replace the top on the can. Pack with more ice and salt and allow to stand an hour or more to ripen before serving.

Curried Chicken With Coconut Quite Unusual

Curries of all kinds have penetrated to the western world from India, and this unusual way of preparing chicken is no exception. The recipe has been tested by the bureau of home economics and found excellent:

1 fowl weighing 3 to 4 pounds 1/2 cup curry
1 quart water 1 1/2 cups salt
1/2 cup sliced onions

Disjoint the fowl and simmer in the water to which 1 teaspoonful of salt has been added. When the fowl is tender, drain it, and measure the liquid. For each cup of liquid, blend 2 tablespoonfuls of flour with 2 tablespoonfuls of fat removed from the top of the broth. Brown the onion in a small amount of the chicken fat, add the broth and the blended flour and fat, and cook until thickened. Then add the curry and the remaining 1/2 teaspoonful of salt. Remove the skin from the back and legs of the fowl and add the meat to the sauce. Allow the meat to heat through but take care that it does not become broken while stirring. Serve the chicken with flaky boiled rice.

Blend of Greens Cooked Entirely Without Water

Those who do not especially care for the flavor of kale or dandelion greens may find more acceptable a blend of these greens with spinach. To conserve the mineral constituents and the vitamins for which these vegetables are important in the diet, these are cooked the shortest possible time and entirely without water, with a small amount of butter or other fat to prevent burning. The directions for preparing them are given by the bureau of home economics United States Department of Agriculture.

Use equal quantities of spinach and kale and half as much dandelion greens. Cut or chop these into short lengths and cook them for 3 minutes in a frying pan in which enough butter has been melted to season the greens and prevent their sticking to the pan. In general, about one tablespoonful of butter should be allowed for each quart of greens.

Why American Watches

... FOR YOU?
... FOR US?

MANY people have come into the store and asked us, "Why do you emphasize American Watches so strongly in your advertising?" And our answer is always this:

If you are seeking a lovely ornament, buy a piece of jewelry that is frankly an ornament. But never, never let your eyes' appraisal of a watch guide you to its choice. For a watch is more than an exquisite bit of jewelry... it must keep time. Otherwise, you will be returning it to us, disappointed in it, and dissatisfied with us.

We know that dollar for dollar, American-made watches will give more accuracy, more fidelity of service, more enduring satisfaction than any other watch in the world.

And we believe that when you study the new American-made models and observe the refinements in design, in style, in thinner models and practical shapes and sizes, you will agree with us that you can get more beauty, more of the modern touch of style in American Watches than in any other. Will you look over our displays?
