to get control.

"A lot of people didn't think he had control for a takedown, but the referce thought he did. If someone else was refereeling, it might have been different, but that's what happened."

Michalski was in control throughout the district match and refused to give Trierweller any room to take the offensive. So why was this match different?

"I've asked myself that a few times," Michalski said." I don't know if my intensity was as high as the week before. It was pretty intense and maybe he wanted in "I my a strain was a single as the week before. It was pretty intense and maybe he wanted in "I my a my a my a my a my time."

intense and maybe he wanted it more.

"I guess next time I won't let it get that far, so a call like that doesn't matter. I know what I did wrong. Now It's all over and I have to go on to the next one. All I can do is my best, and that's what I'm going to do at state."

In his first two matches, Michalski pinned Ypsilanti's Jeremy Pepper in 3:45 and defeated Plymouth Canton's Dan Gruenwald 2-1.

Despite his loss, he remains upbeat about his prospects for success in the state meet and plans to be more focused.

"It would have been nice to win the regional, but the state is what the regional, but the state is what know I should have won, but I'm glad to be going to state. I have to learn from that and use it to my advantage.

"If I learn from my mistake, I guess it's a valuable lesson. Maybe it's better that it happened this way; we'll see.

"You just have to get mentally tough. If you think you'll do well, you probably will. But you can't let anybody intimidate you. It's like a new senson; everyone is fresh and it's a new ballgame."

Harrison juniors Derek Jaeger (125) and Marc Lesperance (135) competed in the regional but did not qualify for the state meet. Jaeger lost his first two matches and Lesperance two of three.
