

OCC marathon to help benefit AIDS research

Detroit fitness buffs will be stepping up to a challenge on Saturday, April 16, when they flex their muscles in the Sixth Annual Workout for Hope, an international three-hour fitness marathon benefitting AIDS research at City of Hope National Medical Center. Leading the Detroit workout from 9 a.m. to noon at the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College, 22055 Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Hills, will be chairwoman Gail Mondry. Registration begins at 7:30 a.m. For information and registration forms, call 810-737-3020. Workout for Hope, a one-of-a-kind sweat-a-thon which takes place simultaneously in gyms and clubs across the country and is led by top aerobic and fitness instructors, has again expanded in 1994. Begun in 1989 as a one-day fund-raiser in 45 cities, a record 120 participating cities — including cities in Australia and Japan — are joining in the fun this year with a collective fund-raising goal of $1.5 million. People of all fitness levels, from couch potatoes to hardbodies, are invited to Workout for Hope Against AIDS.

The estimated 30,000 participants will raise money through pledges and sponsorships for their exercise efforts. Film and television actress and former professional athlete Cathy Lee Crosby has been named the 1994 Workout for Hope Celebrity Spokesperson. She will be appearing on the event's behalf in nationwide television public service announcements, bringing with her a wealth of fitness knowledge and experience.

Before embarking on her successful acting career, Crosby was one of the top tennis players in the world, ranked as high as seventh in singles, playing at Wimbledon, the French Open and U.S. Open.

Continuing her fitness devotion, her second and third fitness videos are in production, her first having been designated double platinum.

We're looking for people who'll act as if they own the store.

Parisian is a premier fashion specialty department store chain with 30 stores. We are dedicated to offering fine quality merchandise and personal service. Our professional sales associates are the foundation of more than a century of success. Our motto, "You're Somebody Special," not only describes the way we feel about our customers, but the way we feel about our associates as well.

We're excited to announce the opening of our Laurel Park Place employment office. At Parisian, we start by hiring nice people who already understand how customers want to be treated, then we give them all the education and support we can.
