

BIRMINGHAM

women was Martha Baldwin who was a leader in establishing the first Birmingham library and also campaigned for sidewalks and street lights in the business district and wastebaskets on the corners.

Concern for the beauty and vibrancy of Birmingham has continued over the years. Local artists loan sculptures for display in public areas. Downtown Birmingham has a theater that brings touring Broadway shows, over 40 art galleries, over 120 unique stores and over 30 fine restaurants. Downtown Shain Park hosts art fairs, music concerts, festivals, and on occasion political rallies. In 1991, First Night/ Birmingham was developed as a family-oriented non-alcoholic way to celebrate the New Year "intoxicated with the pleasure of the arts" rather than alcohol.

Birmingham is an attractive, cultural city that provides its approximately 20,000 residents with opportunities to live, shop and play within the city's boundaries. It has a variety of housing styles and housing costs cover a relatively broad price range which provides a thriving community for many

BIRMINGHAM CITY OFFICES

151 Martin Street, Birmingham, MI 48012
644-1800

SERVICES

Police644-3405
Fire646-1127
Trash Removal642-6888

PROFILE

1990 Population19,997
1989 Per capita income ..$37,061
1992 Total labor force12,884
1992 Unemployment4.0%
1990 Avg. housing cost ..$162,902
1991 tax rate/$1,000 SEV ..$48.05

MAJOR EMPLOYERS

(# OF EMP.)

Jacobson's (500)
Beaumont Hospital (300)
Erb Lumber (225)
Machus Restaurants (150)
Townsend Hotel (150)

types of families. The city sponsors both summer and winter recreational facilities. The Community House serves as the meeting place for over 15 civic groups and provides enrichment for the Birmingham community through its many educational, social and cultural programs.

The devotion of Birmingham's citizens to making it a good place "to live, shop and play" means the vision of Birmingham that developed in the late 19th century should continue into the future.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP OFFICES

4200 Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Hills, 48302
433-7700

SERVICES

Police433-7755
Fire433-7745
Trash Removal433-7700

PROFILE

1990 Population42,406
1989 Per capita income ..$45,504
1992 Total labor force22,962
1992 Unemployment3.8%
1990 Avg. housing cost ..$208,705
1991 tax rate/
$1,000 SEV$39.89-$57.29

MAJOR EMPLOYERS

(# OF EMP.)

Hubbell Roth & Clark (180)
PMH Caramanning (135)
TMP Associates (87)
American Speedy Printing (25)
CIS (CMI) (20)

Fine homes, exclusive subdivisions, class and upbeat shopping, lakes and rolling topography are part of this prestigious residential community. Home to many corporate America managers and owners, success is the way of life in Bloomfield Township.

Residential development continues at a strong pace, providing luxury housing for the discriminating buyer. Expansion of retail opportunities since the mid-1980s continues.