

FARMINGTON
NOTES

Area Lions honored

Four members of the Farmington Area Lions Club have been named Melvin Jones Fellows by the Lions Clubs International in recognition of their commitment to serving humanitarian causes.

They are Donald Prover and Ted Gullias, both of Farmington Hills, Johannes Emig of Farmington and Henry Verleye of Livonia.

At a recent ceremony, each received a plaque and lapel pin acknowledging his dedication to the organization's goals. William Klingensmith, past district governor for the Lions, made the presentations.

The four new Melvin Jones Fellows join six members of the Farmington Area Lions who have previously received the honor.

Governor reappoints her

Janet Etikie Schwall, a Farmington Hills resident, has been reappointed by Gov. John Engler to the state Mental Health Advisory Council on Deafness.

The council advises and assists the director of the Department of Mental Health on mental health services, policies and programs for the deaf and hearing impaired.

Schwall is a Community Services for the Hearing Impaired caseworker in Pontiac. Her new term expires in 1996.

Recycle! ne books

PartiGi, 19 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills, will accept outdated telephone books for recycling during May. "PartiGi is a new business in Farmington Hills," said Janene Parker, director of store operations, "and we are delighted to work with the city on this worthwhile project."

The old directories will be shredded for animal bedding or sent to paper mills to be recycled into other paper products.

Phone books will be accepted at PartiGi through May 30 at the following times: 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday; and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Listening intently: Amanda Trivax of West Bloomfield and her mom Valerie Trivax hear author Thomas Keneally at Adat Shalom Synagogue in Farmington Hills.

Schindler author
'sensitive, smart'

More than 2,000 people packed Adat Shalom Synagogue in Farmington Hills Monday to hear Thomas Keneally, author of "Schindler's List," speak on the man who saved thousands of Jews during World War II.

Their only sin was that they were Jewish.

Thomas Keneally, author of the novel that Steven Spielberg turned into the Academy Award-winning movie "Schindler's List," spoke on that theme Monday at Adat Shalom Synagogue in Farmington Hills. The author spoke on behalf of the Allied Jewish Campaign.
