

The ability to 'see'

Cable program to delve into psychic phenomena

CABLE CONNECTION

MARY LINDA CALDERONE

Have you ever picked up the phone and known who was on the other end before he or she had a chance to speak? What about traveling through a certain town or city and feeling as if you had been there before? How about that recurring dream that someone is constantly chasing you?

If you ever have — even once — had an experience like these, and would like to learn more about why these things happen, you will surely want to be part of the TV audience for Channel 12's award-winning entertainment show, "Coffee and Conversation" on the SWOCC studio at 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 21. Join Denise Jenkins, hostess for this hour-long program (who incidentally is also WJOI's morning news director), as she interviews renowned psychic, Janet Lee.

You may have already seen Lee on Channel 7's "Kelly and Company" or Channel 50's "Morning Break Show." Perhaps you caught Bill Bonds interviewing her on the news. She has made more than a few radio appearances including CKLW, WOMC and WCAR. Lee also has the distinction of working with local police departments such as Pontiac, St. Clair Shores and Burton Township, as well as with out-of-state police departments in Georgia and Florida on numerous missing persons and murder cases over the years.

Lee has a heart-rending story to share with us as to how she became aware of her psychic abilities at the tender age of 11. Her father owned and operated a country airport. Two men were getting ready to take off when she suddenly saw a vision of a plane crashing at the end of the runway. She begged her dad not to let the men go up. He sternly told her to go in the house, mind her own business, and to stop trying to scare his customers with childish nonsense. Needless to say, 10 minutes later both men lay dead in their plane at the end of the runway.

In the days of her youth, it was not popular to admit one could "see" things. This was a terrifying time for her. No member on either side of her family had experienced these abilities. Her parents refused to talk about the feelings she had, choosing to ignore the whole situation.

As she matured, she was able to come to grips with her psychic abilities and accept what fate had bestowed on her, actually using the ability to help others.

In addition to all of this Lee believes she has the capability to communicate with the deceased, oftentimes giving a message so specific that the person receiving it knows it could have only come from the beloved who has passed on.

She is also an expert in dream interpretation and a certified hypnotist. In hypnotherapy, she has helped witnesses recall crimes, people find lost articles, and has performed past and present life regressions.

Delve into the world of psychic phenomena with us. You may just want to ask Lee what the future has in store for you. We'll put on the coffee and you can bet there will be great conversation. Pick up that phone today and call the producer for "Coffee and Conversation," Cindy Stewart at 347-0494 for reservations (seating is limited).

Guess who else is coming to "Coffee and Conversation?" Gloria Steinem. Don't miss Jenkins as she interviews the "daughter of feminism," spokeswoman in issues of equality and one of the country's most widely read and critically acclaimed editors and writers. Check your Channel 12 TV guide listing for dates and times.
