Physical Therapy & Sports Medicine

by Richard W. Hider, P.T., A.T.C., M.S.

BACK ON YOUR FEET!

Whether your body suffers injury due to disease or trauma, patients must submit themselves to diagnosis, treatment, and rehabilitation. It is this last element of the formula for restoring health that will be the subject of this column in the weeks and months that follow. Our purpose is to inform and advise the general public about the variety of therapeutic and rehabilitation techniques and services available which may be of considerable value in restoring comfort, strength, and function to body and soul in simple terms. Physical therapy offers patients their best assurance that they will "get back on their feet" after a physical setback. It may also prove useful in providing information that can help prevent injury in the first place.

members of the health care team. physical therapists are specially trained to improve movement and function, relieve pain, and restore the body to achieve optimal recovery. If you've suffered from an injury, call WILDER PHYSICAL THERAPY & SPORTS MEDICINE, P.C. at (616) 478-7100. Our in-clinic treatment programs are individualized to meet special patient needs — as are the prevention programs for clinic and home which help patients guard against further injury. We are a private practice and are not affiliated with any physicians or health care organizations. Located at 33566 Eight Mile Road, Suite A, Farmington Hills, we are open by appointment. P.S. At the first sign of a sprain, inform us that can help prevent injury in the first place. Rest, application of ice, compression of the injured area, and Elevation.

Pretty as a flower: Sophia Leopardi, 4, (left) makes a birdfeeder out of a pine cone, peanut butter and sunflower seeds during the McFarland Florist and Greenhouse inaugural Sunflower-Funflower contest in Farmington Hills. Sophia won the tallest sunflower prize with an entry of 12 feet, 10 inches.

Fun with flowers: During the contest, Sophia Leopardi, 4, (left) makes a birdfeeder out of a pine cone, peanut butter and sunflower seeds. Below, 4-year-old Sara Armstrong holds the tape for Lisa Cassidy as a huge sunflower head is measured.

Contest proves its point:
Sunflowers are fun flowers

Sunflowers reigned supreme recently at McFarland Florist and Greenhouse in Farmington Hills. Fifteen families entered the inaugural Sunflower-Funflower contest, sponsored by the nursery.

"It was a nice turnout," said McFarland employee Lisa Cassidy. "There were approximately two children per family."

Four-year-old Sophia Leopardi of Canton won the tallest sunflower prize with an entry of 12 feet, 10 inches. The Waremuende family, also of Canton, won the prize for the best-looking sunflower.

Area Philharmonic
set to open season

The Farmington Area Philharmonic (formerly Group du jour) will begin its 1994-95 season with "Rhapsody in Red, White & Blue," a concert to be held at 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 30, at North Farmington High School on 13 Mile Road, east of Farmington Road.

William Albright, ragtime pianist and acclaimed composer, will be the featured soloist.

At 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2, the Farmington Area Philharmonic will perform in "Buckaroo Holidays II" at the Farmington Hills Activity Center on 11 Mile Road, east of Middlebelt.

"We are proud to provide music that meets the highest possible standards yet keeps the cost of enjoying classical music affordable," said Karen Nixon, the group's founder and conductor. Call 478-2075 for more information.
