The leaders could not be unseated.
Once again, Livonia Ladywood emerged as the Observerland's premier volleyball team, despite a serious challenge to its throne from Plymouth Salem. The Blazers bandled that, however, beating Salem in the state region-als en route to a spot in the Class A tournament semidinals.

An other shining star among the Observerland teams was Redford Thorston, which capped the consecutive disthirt consecutive distribution distribu

The coaching job done by Lady-wood's Tom Teeters was, once again, superb. His team was the Catholic League champion once again and made another strong run in the state tournament.

But this year's coach of the year accolades go to two coaches, actually. Brian Gilles and Allis Suffety, who serve as Salem's co-maches.
