The Bible Urges Kindness To All Of God's Creatures

In the days of perfect nature, man lived together with birds and beasts. — Genesis 2:2

If you were driving along a desert highway and saw a tortoise crossing the road in front of you, would you stop and take it off the road, or at least, try to avoid hitting it? Do you watch out for deer in any part of the country? Kindness to animals can be as simple as these things. It also means taking the proper care of your pets and giving them love and attention, as well as adequate food, water and shelter.

Your children will then learn love and respect for all animals. One need look no farther than the book of Genesis in the Bible to learn that God made all the living creatures and saw that they were good. He made them for a reason, and in many ways we need them as much as they need us. So thank Him for them at your House of Worship, and remember to be kind to all of them.
