COACH OF THE YEAR

CC had a 4-1 lead.

Thomas' hit didn't exactly surprise CC coach John Salter, simply because he didn't know what to expect. "He's the kind of kid you just don't know what he's going to do," Salter said. "He'll make a bonehead play one inning and a great play the next."

Thomas' hit wasn't the end of CC's inning. Bentley pitched to one more batter, walking Mike Homant. Marla relieved, and he induced another freshman, catcher Mike Blane, to hit a foul fly to right that Jeff Mackiewicz eyeballed — then dropped. The error gave Blane another chance, and he delivered a run-scoring single.

That brought up the top of the order and Greg Rogers. With runners on first and second and no one out, Rogers pushed a bunt toward first. Marla bobbled it but fielded it, then found he had no one to throw to at first. First baseman Dan Quine charged the ball and second baseman Kaz Kuriasu did not cover the bag.

For the second time in the inning, the bases were loaded — and still none were out. Marla struck out Chris Mialak and got Mike Dagnano to ground out to second, but another run scored to make it 6-1.

The number of hits produced in the first four innings indicated the Rocks would not go quietly. Brad Lear punctuated that, leading off the Salem fifth by driving a Stankewicz pitch over the left field fence for a solo home run. After Ahmande Grimes fled deep to center, Quine, Mackiewicz and Ryan Rumberger all singled to load the bases.

An ideal opportunity — but this was to be a day of misses for the Rocks. They managed to score just one run, on Mike Brannan's ground out.

For the game, Salem totaled 10 hits but stranded 11 baserunners. CC left seven runners on base.

"The game's a series of opportunities," said a philosophical Dale Rumberger. "If you don't take advantage of them, you go home."

At the start, it seemed the breaks would favor Salem. A two-out single by Mackiewicz in the third proved important when Ryan Rumberger's grounder in the hole between short and third was misplayed by Mialak. His wild throw to first allowed Mackiewicz to race all the way home with the game's first run.

CC tied it in the third on a walk to Homant, two sacrifice bunts and Mialak's two-out single to left. The Shamrocks led it with two runs in the sixth, both scoring on Couture's two-out double to left-center field.

Salter pulled Stankewicz, who pitched five innings the previous Saturday, after five innings and let Thomas, a left-hander, finish. He did not give up a hit or a run, walking one and striking out one. "With the top of their order coming up, I thought it was a good time to bring in another pitcher they hadn't seen before," said Salter.

CC got two hits apiece from

Rogers and Mialak, with Thomas driving in three runs and Couture two. Ryan Rumberger led Salem with three hits; Mackiewicz and Lear had two each.

But even though Salem outlit CC 10-8, Rock pitchers issued seven walks to three by the Shamrocks, and Salem's defense made two errors to one by CC. Which is why in the end the only number that really mattered — the score also favored the Shamrocks.

Class A Baseball Finals

- What: Michigan High School Athletic Association Class A baseball tournament.
- When: Semifinals, 7 p.m. Friday; Finals, 7 p.m. Saturday.
- Where: Semifinals at C.O. Brown Stadium and Nichols Field at Daley Park in Dattle Creek; Brown Stadium will host Saturday's final.
- What: Grand Lodge vs. Grosse Pointe North; Redford Catholic Central vs. Rochester Adams.
- Cost: Individual tickets are $4 per day.
- Outlook: Solid defense, good pitching and strong hitting has been the key for Catholic Central (22-8), which eliminated Plymouth Salem in the quarterfinals. Still, Adams (26-8) advanced by beating Warren West in the quarterfinals. In the regional final last Saturday, the H-giants knocked out defending Class A champ and pre-tournament favorite Birmingham Brother Rice 8-0. Getting past Adams will be a difficult task for the Shamrocks.
- History: This is CC's third trip to the Final Four in John Salter's 15 years as coach. The Shamrocks won a state title in 1987.
