Disintegrator puts waste to good use

PRNewswire — For the nation's more than 54 million dog owners, relief from their worst chore is now just a flick of the finger away. Man's best friend may now be an ingenious new invention that eliminates dog waste in seconds and uses it to instantly fertilize your lawn.

The invention — the OODA Doggy Doo Disintegrator — works by an unusual system of mashing, cutting and dicing of dog waste in tiny cubicles, specially engineered to produce intense hydraulic pressure by an ordinary garden hose. In seconds, the dog waste is broken down into minute particles that are easily assimilated into the earth.

It is for use in yards, lawns and sand areas. The OODA Doggy Doo Disintegrator is available in two models — the Conquest, for small dogs up to 15 pounds, and the Annihilator, for dogs more than 15 pounds.

Both tools are lightweight and easily used by small children and elderly people. There is no bending, stooping or scooping of dog waste, and there is nothing mechanical to operate except the power control valve. All that is required is that a person place the disintegrator over the dog waste and pull the trigger. The waste is gone in seconds. There is no need for shovels, scoopers and gloves.

The tool is self-cleaning and comes fully assembled. The parts are made of the highest quality brass fittings, high-impact resins and the finest hydraulic pressure valve. The OODA eliminates the most distasteful task of owning a pet.

The Conquest sells for $34.95 and the Annihilator for $39.95, plus shipping and handling of $6.95. They are sold with a money-back guarantee and a one-year warranty, although they should last a lifetime with reasonable care. The OODA can be bought by calling (800) 956-6232 or by writing to American Hygienic Systems Inc., P.O. Box 2431, Jupiter, Fla. 33468-2431.
