OUR FAITH asks us to help our grandparents stay young

Our so-called senior citizens have never had it so good, because they now have so many choices of activities; as well as free help with taxes and legal advice. Almost every town now has a senior citizen center, which provides these things. They can eat lunch nearly every day, celebrate birthdays, play games, engage in hobbies, join exercise classes, attend holiday parties and do many other things. Someone there will write a column for the local newspaper, announcing these events, giving news of the members, and asking for prayers for the sick and hospitalized.

If your parents or grandparents are in reasonably good health and haven't yet entered into this enjoyable lifestyle that could help them turn back the calendar a little bit, encourage them to do so. Your House of Worship will applaud you for this effort.
