Safety task force meets Thursday

The Citizens for a Safer Farmington Hills task force will meet 5 p.m. Thursday in the 12 Mile Road library branch auditorium in Farmington Hills to discuss the public safety tax proposal.

The task force, chaired by Betty Nicolay, will provide information to voters so they can make an in-telligent choice on Nov. 7 regard-ing the proposed public safety tax.

The proposal calls for a 1-mill tax for 10 years to pay for police and fire department improvements. Some of the improvements that a would provide include:

8 A new, centrally located, fifth fire station, staffed 24 hours aday, seven days a week to reduce overall response time, reduce the burden on existing volunteer firefighters while increasing day staffing.

Additional police staffing to allow increased patrol coverage on all shifts to help reduce response time, increase traffic enforcement and neighborhood coverage.

Improved community policing opportunities.
 Opportunities for improved police services.
