Police seek warrant for disabled man accused of theft

BY LARRY O'CONNOR

Farmington police want to charge a wheelchair-bound man who they believe is a cigarette handle wno they believe is a cigarette bendit.

Farmington police are seeking a warrant for retail fraud against a Rediord Township man, 41, in connection with the incident at the Downtown Center supermarket Sept 8.

Oakland County Prosecutors have denied a warrant because no one saw the man with three cartons of cigarettes worth $71.22, Cmdr. Chuck Lee said Police intend to follow up with the city attempt to possibly charge the man under violation of a city ordinance.

The man has prior considerate.

The man has prior convictions for larceny, carrying a concealed weapon and drug possession.

It was the third shoplifting incident involving cigarettes at a Farmington Farmer Jack store within a week.

"We catch all kinds of people for stealing," said Both Daniels, an assistant bookkeeper at Farmer Jack.

"I just know when they are up to no good. It's a sixth sense, I guess."

At 1:25 p.m., a man in a wheel-chair entered the store and went to the cigarette rack with a shop-ping basket in his lap, police re-ports said. He went to the beer and wine section.

When he left the store, employ-ees noticed the basket was miss-ing and called police.

Police stopped a dark blue Oldsmobile on Farmington Road, just south of Slocum, that was being driven by a white man. A man matching the description of the suspect was a passenger.

Police found two cartons of Marlboro Lights and a carton of Marlboro Lights and a carton of Newports on the car floorboard.
On Monday, two men fled in a white Renault with Ohlo license plates after they were confronted stealing eigarettes at the Crossroads Plaza store.
