

Novelist to visit library Wednesday

Jane Hamilton, the 1989 PEN/Hemingway Foundation Award winner, will appear at the Baldwin Public Library in Birmingham 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 15, as part of the library's "Writers Live at the Library" series.

The library is at 300 W. Merrill. Call (810) 647-1700.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Baldwin Library and the Baldwin Library Trust, the program offers readers a chance to hear authors read excerpts from their books, ask questions and have their books autographed.

ROBERT WILLIAMS

Jane Hamilton: The award-winning author will visit the Baldwin Public Library in Birmingham next week as part of its "Writers Live at the Library" series.

"A Map of the World," Hamilton's second novel, tells of an American family caught in a web of tragedy and circumstance that threatens to destroy them. Hamilton's ability to illuminate ordinary details of life allows her to paint a haunting picture of domestic relationships. Newsweek praised Hamilton for her award-winning first novel, "The Book of Ruth."

Books will be available for sale or readers may bring copies from home to be signed. As previous Writers Live at the Library performances have been heavily attended, the library suggests arriving early.

Author to speak

Award-winning author Be Be Moore Campbell will be the featured speaker Saturday, Nov. 18, at the second annual Literary Luncheon, hosted by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Southfield Alumnae Chapter.

The luncheon will begin 11:30 a.m. at the Plaza Hotel in Southfield. Tickets are $35. For more information, call (810) 597-1391.

Campbell is author of the popular "Brothers & Sisters" fiction work and has been quoted on issues pertaining to African-American relationships and culture.

Proceeds from the luncheon will benefit the Delta SAC Foundation, a charitable organization committed to public service with emphasis on providing scholarships and educational support for students in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Antiques show, sale slated in Southfield

The Southfield Americana Antiques Show and Sale will take place Friday-Sunday, Nov. 17-19, at the Southfield Civic Center, 26000 Evergreen at 10-1/2 Mile.

Hours are 2-9 p.m. Friday, noon to 8 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Admission is $4 with any of the event's ads or listings, $5 regular, free for children age 12 and under. One paid admission is good for all three days of the show. Dining and free parking will be available.

The event recreates the charming atmosphere of old-time country America. Antiques dealers from across the country, noted authors and nationally known experts will exhibit and sell their collections.

Poets featured

Poets Patricia Hooper of Birmingham and Linda Nemecek-Foster of Grand Rapids will be featured at the next free program of the Uptown Writers Series 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, at the Southfield Public Library, in the Southfield Civic Center on Evergreen between 10 and 11 Mile. Call (810) 948-0470 for more information.
