Missing robbery suspect turns up at police station

By Bill Coutant
STAFF WRITER

They may curiously killed the cat. It may not have done a Detroit man any favors either.

Farmington Hills police arrested Major Mobley, 21, Monday after he came to the police station on 11 Mile to ask about his brother and friends who had been arrested at 3 a.m. Monday for armed robbery.

Mobley, his brother Zahir Kenyatta-Maurice Mobley, 18, Dean Antonio Corbett-Hall, 18, and Jaami Lamont Tounsent, 17, all Detroiters, were arraigned on armed robbery charges before Magistrate Dennis Pheny at 47th District Court in Farmington.

The manager of the Lone Star Saloon on Orchard Lake in Farmington Hills told Hills police that at 10:05 p.m. Nov. 26, she answered the employee buzzer at the rear of the business.

A male employee, 19, was being held with a pistol to his head by one man while the other also showed a pistol and told the manager to get inside.

Hills Detective Supervisor Lt. Marty Bledsoe said something then caused the two to leave before taking any money.

"Something caused them to cut things short," he said. "They had planned to take some money."

Instead, the pair left and got into a 1995 Ford Explorer and drove away with two other men. Officers from Redford, Southfield, Farmington and Detroit joined the chase that ended in the Telegraph and Five Mile area.

All four suspects fled on foot and officers were able to capture three of them by 3 a.m. The fourth man was at large.

"He (Major Mobley) had come in to ask about the others," Bledsoe said. "But we had developed a case of probable cause enough to arrest him. I think he was surprised. I don't think he was there to turn himself in."
