ington Hills. Tubolino is a member of the Society of Insurance Trainers and Educators. In addition, he is a member of the adjunct faculty for Insurance Studies at Lawrence Technological University.

Computools, Inc., a Michigan based computer services company, announces the opening of a second computer software training center. This expansion, the second major expansion in the last year, was necessary to meet the increasing demand for computer software application training. The new center is open as of Dec. 1 at Westhills II, 34119 W. 12 Mile Road, Suite 325, Farmington Hills.

Mary Jane Peck, executive director of Boys and Girls Republic in Farmington Hills, has been honored by the Michigan Association of Children's Alliances with the Hugh Whipple Award for Administrative Excellence. Boys and Girls Republic is a residential treatment center serving youth and families.

Linda Woolwine of Farmington Hills, regional director for AAA Michigan, was named the 1995 Woman of Achievement by the YWCA of Western Wayne County for outstanding contributions in the area of Woolwine business and industry. She was honored at the fourth Women of Achievement Annual Awards Luncheon. With a bachelor's degree in business from Siena Heights College, Woolwine began her career at AAA Michigan in 1973 as a claims file clerk. Less than seven years later, she became branch administrative manager at the Farmington Hills branch and by 1992 was one of three regional directors, a position she holds today, managing 400 employees.

CARRIER OF THE MONTH: FARMINGTON

Mark, 14, delivers the Observer in the Farmington Hills subdivision No. 1. He has been delivering the Observer since June 1992.

The Farmington High School ninth grader's favorite subjects are biology and Spanish.

Mark plays the trumpet in the marching band. His hobbies are music, magic cards, swimming and baseball. He plans to attend Michigan State University after he graduates.

Skills such as dependability, money management and customer service are some of the things he has acquired on his route.
