One of the most elegant women's apparel stores in metropolitan Detroit.

You'll find all this and much, much more at Jacobson's.

To say that Jacobson's is a store that evokes a special type of feeling from customers would be an understatement.

The thriving department store has become a landmark in the Birmingham community.

To further define its very special market niche, Sandy Wloszek, the general manager for Jacobson's, says she hopes patrons will think of it as "a welcoming hometown type of store with a warm ambience."

Besides that strong sense of loyalty and tradition, Jacobson's is also known for its exceptional customer service and its fine fashion and specialty items for the home.

Much of the merchandise that Jacobson's carries is exclusive to the store.

Jacobson's will be carrying even more distinctive and exclusive merchandise in the future, Wloszek said, explaining that Jacobson's has added on three resident buyers who will be traveling to various markets and shopping the competition to make sure Jacobson customers are able to select from absolutely the finest merchandise available.

The three buyers will concentrate on the following areas:

- women's apparel
- women's accessories
- the store for the home

"We'll be looking for special items that other stores may not be carrying," she said. "We'll also be looking for ways to continually offer superior customer service."

Look for a new and improved women's apparel store as well.

The women's apparel store will be undergoing an extensive renovation this spring in order to allow the store to improve its presentation techniques for exquisite fashions.

The Jacobson's apparel store is located at 336 Maple in Birmingham.

The store for the home, men's and children's shop is located at 325 N. Woodward.
