God Made The Wild Creatures; Let's Respect Them

When you visit a wilderness area, do you watch out for the wildlife? In the mountains or the woods, there are deer, bears, wolves and mountain lions. In the deserts there are tortoises, foxes, rabbits, ground squirrels and roadrunners. Some of the animals are considered dangerous, but usually when people are injured or threatened by them, it's because of their own foolish actions. When on a camping trip, it is best to stay out of the heavily populated wildlife areas and watch for these animals on the roads. Don't do anything deliberately to harm them, like shooting them for target practice. Remember that God made the living creatures, and that He wants us to respect them and their habitats. We can never replace them.

...every creature of God is good...
For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer."
— Samuel T. Coleridge — Timothy 4:5

He prayeth well who loveth well
Both man and bird and beast.
— Samuel T. Coleridge
