

ARTISTIC EVENTS

This is a listing of gallery exhibits and other art-related events that are continuing, and of galleries that run regular shows. Openings and other events are listed in Thursday's Arts and Entertainment section. Send announcements of Oakland County art gallery exhibitions to: Mary Kiemic, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham 48009; fax (810) 644-1314.

■ HUNTING GALLERY
To March 12 — "Moveable Feast," a group exhibit of works by area artists highlighting a range of imagery dealing with the subject of food, continues at 514 S. Washington, Royal Oak. Call (810) 646-4820.

■ SOUTHFIELD CIVIC CENTER GALLERY
Through March 13 — An exhibit of portrait paintings by area artist Pauline Ender continues in the Parks and Recreation Building, 26000 Evergreen. Call (810) 424-9222.

■ THE WOODS GALLERY
To March 16 — "Exploring the Boundaries of Watercolor," an exhibit by artist and teacher Kathy Phillips, continues on the lower level of the Huntington Woods Library, 28416 Scotia, south of 11 Mile and west of Woodward. The show highlights the variety of styles Phillips displays internationally. Call (810) 643-9720.

■ BLOOMFIELD FINE ARTS
To March 16 — Bloomfield Fine Arts' 14th annual Antique Art Exhibition and Sale continues at 280 N. Woodward, Birmingham. Collectible antique American and European oil paintings as well as works by "living masters," fine porcelain, marble, Tiffany style lamps and other objects of art are featured. Call (810) 646-1132.

■ ELIZABETH STONE GALLERY
To March 16 — The gallery at 636 N. Woodward, Birmingham, showcases a collection of student art work from the Visual Arts Program of the Bloomfield Hills School District, preschool through high school. Call (810) 647-7440.

■ ALAN LEE GALLERY
Through March 16 — "NEXT," a group exhibit featuring works by Laurie Halbritter, Carter Hodgkin, Stephanie Ballor, Greg Simons and Scott Stephano, continues at 201 Nickles Arcade, Ann Arbor. The five contemporary artists address social and gender issues and are dedicated to illuminating a vision of the world often hidden by limited sight and prejudice. Call (313) 663-8500.

■ THE ANDERSON GALLERY
Through March 16 — "Textiles and Fiber Art: A Study in Interior Design with Dwayne Porter" continues at 7 N. Saginaw, Pontiac. Call (810) 336-4611.

■ JANICE CHARACH EPSTEIN MUSEUM GALLERY
Through March 17 — "A Still Life Painting by Pablo Picasso from the Detroit Institute of Arts" is both the title and the centerpiece of an exhibit that continues in the museum/gallery in the Jewish Community Center, 6600 W. Maple at Drake, West Bloomfield. The painting, "Bottle of Anis del Mono," is drawn from the DIA's permanent collection and is on view in conjunction with a variety of special events, including director's tours 1 p.m. Tuesday and Sunday, March 12 and 17, and a lecture on Picasso by Hope Palmer 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 14. Tours are available Sunday-Thursday, March 10-14; call for reservations. Call (810) 661-7041.

■ MIDLAND CENTER FOR THE ARTS
To March 17 — "Stitched, Layered, Pieced: Michigan Artists and the Quilt" and "Occupations"

The Art of Working People" continue at 1801 W. St. Andrews, Midland. "Stitched, Layered, Pieced," organized by the University of Michigan Museum of Art, brings together 20 dynamic and colorful art quilts demonstrating the craftsmanship and expressive intentions of talented quilt artists, all with Michigan connections. With the theme of work and people at work, "Occupations" was created especially for young visitors but will interest adults as well; the exhibit is especially strong in American and French artists of the 19th and 20th centuries. Call (517) 831-3260.

■ UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN MUSEUM OF ART
Through March 17 — "Dark Embrace: Images of War, Death and the Apocalypse" continues at 525 S. State, Ann Arbor, exploring the theme of death in the graphic arts. The featured works, from the museum's permanent collection, include sacred and secular themes, personifications of death and works in which death is the result of warfare or other acts of violence. Durer, Manet, Goya, Callot and della Bella are among the artists represented. Call (313) 764-0395.

■ MILFORD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Through March 24 — The Village Fine Arts Association presents an exhibit of two- and three-dimensional art and poetry 9 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m. weekdays, Saturday-Sunday by appointment, at 238 N. Main, Milford. The VFAA's fourth annual Poetry Art Night, featuring art, literature and music, will take place Saturday, March 16; tickets are $7.50.

■ THE ART GALLERY II
During March — Featured artists of the month in the local artists cooperative at Summit Mall in Waterford are Delores Hoskins, Nancy Wurm, Ray Hawkins and Jack Martin. Hoskins' vibrant use of watercolor brings her beautiful still life, florals and animals to life. Her work includes a variety of India ink drawings as well as Sumi paintings. Wurm is a realism painter who uses inks, watercolor and oils to create her visions of still life and animals. Ink and oil portraits from models or photographs, and tiny animal sculpture, are specialties of hers. Hawkins uses handcrafted recycled paper to design his unusual style of vases, lamps, plates and more. His painting and texturing add to their beauty. Martin, a master of pen and ink drawings, has originals of barns, lighthouses, trains and boats, and handcolored prints. Call (810) 683-8142.
