The greatest play I ever saw happened least leasem on the St. Louis prounds. It was as Charley Drefen said the next day, the only outside play ever made, for in it Hauser, our short stop, put out three of the Chicago Cube and myself.

The play was wonderful, not only because of the altustion and the rismar in which it was accomplished but because of the fact that Hauser kept his bead all the dr. and thought as quickly as he acted.

The situation wait his: We had the game won, but Charlee and his Crabs were fighting hard and hitting harder. It took a lot tis fielding and desperate work to hold the lead we had
