BEDWETTING WHAT MY DOCTORS DIDN'T UNDERSTAND!

I am a 16-year old girl and happy to say, a former bed wetter. I had wet the bed for my entire life and had tried everything to stop. When I found out I couldn't I started seeing many, many doctors. I know there are people out there who believe that drugs can solve their problem. They can't. I tried everything from Tofranil, a strong antidepressant to nasal spray. All the medication that I took in pill form either didn't work or gave me serious stomach pain. The nasal spray caused me to have more serious problems. It burned through nasal passages, causing me to have severe nose bleeds. Another thing I tried was a bed alarm. The only thing that did was wake everybody in the house every time someone sat on my bed. One of the last resorts I turned to, and probably the most embarrassing, was the senior-adult diaper. I was afraid other kids would find out my secret and laugh at me. Countless doctor after doctor told me the only thing I could do was wait. "She'll grow out of it." When I came to ETC I was sudden and scared, every other doctor I had ever seen told me it was hopeless. I remember the hardships I had to go through to finally get cured. It is very tough for bedwetters. They feel all alone, even though bedwetting is common. I would like to thank Barbara (my counselor) because she has saved me. To all those thinking about alternatives to stop bed-wetting, don't, there isn't one.

Love,
Sara
