Movie made in Petoskey tells classic love story

Filmed in Petoskey, "Straight to the Heart" opens Friday for a two week run at the Birmingham Theatre on Woodward. Set in a Midwestern town, the story revolves around a love triangle. At the center is Alice, drawn back to the town by her family ties and desire to return to her childhood home. Leon, a rising small town lawyer has been courting Alice and is planning his future with her. His plans center around a grand old house he intends to make theirs upon marriage.

house he intends to make theirs upon marriage.

Jack, a poker hustler, returns after years away to quickly sell the house and leave. Everything gets shuffled up when he and Alice are introduced.

"It's a character-driven story," said producer William Macomber of Sante Fe Film Co. "It's a love story, but it's also a very good story, and people will enjoy it for that."

The film is directed by Eric Vaterlaus, and stars Daniel Meyer, Moira Brennan, Kary Cawley and Brad Nelson Winters.

Cawley and Brad Nelson Win-ters.
"We chose Petoskey as a film-ing location because it was the type of town we were looking for, and the community was very supportive," said Macomber who supportive," said Macomber who spent summers in the area as child. A graduate of UCLA, Macomber began working with Merchant Ivory Productions shortly thereafter spending time in New York and London, some of the projects he was involved with include "Jefferson in Paris," and 'Feast of July."

He left Merchant Ivory and joined with Eric Vaterlaus to produce 'Straight to the Heart.' He is now distributing and marketing the film throughout the U.S.

Vaterlaus graduated form NYU Graduate Film School. His his short 'There and Gone' won the Silver Award at the Houston International Film Festival. He founded Sante Fe Film Co. in 1991.

"Straight to the Heart" has played in theaters in Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix. "We beat the Hollywood fare on we beat the Hollywood late on a per screen average including The Rock,' The Cable Guy,' and Twistor,' said Macomber. The film is scheduled to open in New York in October.
