Free throws and defense made the difference for Farmington as the Falcons went to Waterford Mott to pick up their first victory of the girls basketball season. Farmington defeated host Waterford Mott 41-25 Thurnday for its first win in four tries. Mott is now winless in two. "We played bad 'hope-you-miss' defense -- and it worked," cracked Falcons' coach John Vordura. "Actually, we did defend a little better." Amanda Porter led the way for Farmington as usual with 21 points while Angi Newman contributed 31. Jenny Neale gathered in 12 rebounds, Mott held a 12-9 lead after one

Farmington Hills Mercy achieved another impressive basketball victory Thursday and advanced to the championship game of its own Mercy Hoops Classic.

The Marlins outran and outscored unbeaten Stevensville Lakeshore 65-39 in the first round of the 16th annual girls basketball tournament.

Mercy was scheduled to face defending champ Plymouth Canton, a 47-34 winner over Rochester Adams, in the final Saturday evening.

Amanda Wolke, a 6-foot-1 junior, scored 10 points to lead the Lancers. Rachel Shrley added nine, Nicky Kern and Sarah Behnke six apicer. Kern injured an ankle early in the game and didn't play any more.

After falling behind 4-0, Mercy scored the next eight points and never trailed again. They led 16-10 after one quarter and scored the last eight of the second to make it 32-13 at halfilme.

Kluska hit an outside shot and Valade made a three-point play to start the third quarter, and there was little doubt Mercy was on its way after that, holding a 48-27 advantage going into the fourth period.
