Channels 3,8 informative on election

Are you undecided as to who you'll cast your vote for in November? After all, how much can you pick up from those 30 second sound bites

For local election coverage, look no farther than your own backyard. That's right, we've got you "covered" on INFO TV-12 and your other community television channels.

Besides Republican candidate Bob Dole, Democratic candidate Bill Clinton and Reform Party candidate Ross Perot, did you know that Workers World Party candidate Monica Gail Moorehead, Socialist Equality Party candidate Jerome White and John Hagelin (who has no party affiliation are on the ballot too? That's one good reason why you should check out the Community Bulletin Board Channel 3 and Channel 8 for a full list of candidates running for all offices. Now, there's no excuse for going into the voting booth and seeing a bunch of obscure names you've never seen before. Check 'em out beforehand and make an informed choice.

Our office also contacted candidates and invited them to share with our viewers 15 minutes of air time on INFO TV-12 where they stated their views and opinions.

Don't miss Farmington Hills State Representative Candidate Nights on the following date, Oct. 29.

Tune into INFO TV-12's program "Let's Talk." Host Ben Marks explores the issues with his guests in an hour-long format. Republican Candidate for Oakland County Prosecutor David Gorcyca, Republican Candidate for Oakland County executive L. Brooks Patterson, Republican Candidate for State Representative Nancy Cassis (38th District), Republican Candidate for State Representative Andrew Raczowski (37th District), Republican Candidate for Oakland County Commissioner Kay Schmidt (17th District), Republican Candidate for Oakland County Commissioner Donn Wolf (19th District), Oakland County Circuit Judge Kim Small, Republican Candidate for U.S. Senator Ronna Romney, and candidate for Oakland County Judge John O'Brien are all interviewed by Marks.

Marks is quick to point out "Let's Talk" touts a bi-partisan approach. Although both sides were invited to attend, some chose not to attend. Producer Shirley Cash on "Cash Talks" brings you Ronna Romney, Kim Small and John O'Brien.

Check your local TV guide or Channel 12 for dates and times of respective programs. Monday, Nov. 4, the day before Election Day, INFO TV-12 will air political programming from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

And if you think you have to wait to the 11 p.m. news on Election Night for local results, guess again. Farmington Hills Channel 8 and Novi Channel 13 will be posting results starting as early as 9 p.m.

Get the info on election coverage right on INFO-TV 12. See you at the polls.

The next SWOCC meeting is 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 7 p.m. at Novi City Hall and will also be cablecast live on Channel 13.

The next CAC meeting is 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 12, at SWOCC.

Mary Linda Calderone is the Community Outreach Coordinator for the Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission.
