

MILD, GENTLE LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN GIVEN FREE

So many of the ills of women are due to habitual constipation, probably because of their false modesty on the subject, that their attention cannot be too strongly called to the importance of keeping the bowels open. It is especially important to do that, regardless of the sex, but it is especially important in women.

From the time the girl begins to menstruate until menopause, the chances of coming through healthy if she watches her bowel movements. If you find yourself constipated, with bad breath, simply complexion, headaches, belching gas and other symptoms of indigestion and constipation, take a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup

Pepsin. It is woman's favorite laxative. You will find that you can do away with salts, strong cathartics, etc., which are entirely unsuited to woman's requirements.

Mrs. Katherine Haberstroh of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Mrs. A. E. Herick of Wheeler, Mich., who was almost paralyzed in her stomach and bowels, are now cured by the use of this remedy. A free sample bottle can be obtained by addressing Dr. Caldwell, and after you are convinced of its merits buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Redford

W. J. Muldragh is digging a well on R. B. Northrop's lot on Grand River avenue.

R. B. Northrop was called to Elm Wednesday on undertaking business.

The difficulty experienced in getting both material and men is a great handicap to those who are building.

Geo. C. Burgess has been doing good in this community of late with his paint brushes. He has refreshed many buildings both in and out of the village.

Mrs. G. W. Lee is spending the week with friends in Holly and Fenton.

Mrs. Sherman enjoyed a short visit with her son, Frank Goodner, who stopped to see her this week, when on his way to Chicago, where he is engaged in business.

Ball Games.

Saturday was an extremely hot day for everything except playing base ball. Even that was hot sport for the fans who were obliged to sit or stand in the sun, but, of course, the players did not mind it in the least. It was never yet too hot for a real enthusiastic base ball player to "get into the game."

The game between the Redfords and the Y. M. O.'s of Detroit were just evenly carried along for scores to keep up the interest until the last. It took the tenth inning to settle up the battle and for Redford to get the required fifty lining to win the game.

The Y. M. O. team secured three runs while Andrews was warning up, but after that they were at the mercy of the Redford battery at all times and only secured one more run.

Andrews and Brown, the home battery played a remarkable game. They worked like veterans and their work was effective at all times. The Redfords did some heavy sluggeing and were handy at pilfering bases.

The crowd was not as large as the game deserved, but those who did attend were well repaid.

Weather conditions seemed to be just right for the Redford team on the 4th for they took two good games from the strong team of Independents that came out from Detroit. The grounds were so hot that they blistered yet the boys played just as though they felt like it from start to finish.

Charley Hantz pitched the forenoon game and had the city batters at his mercy at every stage of the game. They pounded away at the open air until it grew tiresome to watch them.

They got the same kind of treatment in the afternoon from Lew Andrews, who was in full control all the time and in his usual effective manner sent the visitors to the bench in a procession. Brown, the old reliable, was always and everlastingly right on the spot and caught both games in a magnificent manner.

The "whole gang was behind them" too and there were many brilliant plays in both the in and out field. "All hands entered gaily into the sluggeing and had all kinds of fun from it."

The score in the first game was 5 to 4 and in the afternoon game all in favor of Redford, of course.

HERE'S A CONSUMPTION CURE

Milk Strippings From Healthy Cow Taken While Warm Said to Be an Efficacious Remedy.

Milk strippings when taken from a healthy cow that gives very rich milk and taken in quantities of a quart twice a day immediately after milking, before it cools any, will cure a larger per cent. of cases of consumption than any other method. It will also prevent it when taken in time. The reason why it is so successful is because it is absorbed or transfused into the circulation almost immediately without taxing the digestive organs as all other foods do, and as the strippings or last quart of the milking from a cow that gives very rich milk is nearly all cream, the patients will take on fat so much faster than can be accomplished by any other method that they soon gain enough strength and vitality to overcome the germs causing consumption.

To get the best results one should begin with a glass of strippings and increase gradually; but if there is any disgust for it created any time, the quantity should be decreased at once to one-half and then increase gradually again. In two or three weeks the patient can usually take a quart in the morning and evening. It is very important to take it immediately after milking so as not to allow it to cool below blood heat. In cold weather it should be milked into a dish resting in warm water to prevent it from cooling any.—B. J. Kendall, M. D.

Drawbacks of Society.

In a town of this size, the husbands of the "housewife" women have dress suits which they bought to be married in and have outgrown, but when an evening affair occurs, the "society" women stuff their fat husbands into the tight dress suits, and go. Then, at the party, all the married women get together, and tell what awful times they had getting their husbands into the dress suits. If there is a sound as of something tearing, every married woman turns as white as death; she thinks it is her husband's trousers. At a late evening affair a married couple came late, and the woman explained to a group of married women that at the last moment she had to put gossamer on her husband's trousers, "and ever" with those guests," she said, "be don't dare sit down." Another woman said she had buttoned her husband's vest with a button hook, and that he vowed he could not stand it, and threatened every minute to unbutton it. "If he does," she said, "we will have to go home early; I just can't get it together again."—Athens Constitution.

Australian Names.

"Nearly all my friends," remarked an Australian the other day, "call me a 'corntalk.' I've quit correcting them long ago.

"Now, as it happens, the term should only be applied to the people of New South Wales. They are the tall, slim blokes who look as though you could break them in two between your finger and thumb. I come from the colony of Victoria, where we are known by a still more unattractive sobriquet of 'gumsuckers,' on account of our great forests of blue gum trees.

"Queensland is in the tropics, and its inhabitants are called 'banana eaters.' The South Australians are 'crow eaters,' because in times of drought the natives are sometimes reduced to the use of crows as food.

"So call me a 'gumsucker' if you like, but never a 'corntalk.' At the next time you want to apply a nickname to an Australian ask him from which colony he comes."

Art Arcade for Carlsbad.

The project of an art arcade for Carlsbad, which has been for so many years a vexed question among the traders of the seashore, is now making progress. The preparations have been pushed with noticeable energy. Extensive earth and rock excavations have been necessary to make room at one part of the Posthof promenade for the building, and it can now be seen that useful work has been done. The little booths which formerly stood here and gave the appearance of an annual fair were certainly no ornament to the most fashionable promenade among the world's watering places. Instead of this medley of booths of all possible colors and styles a tasteful, roomy and stately building will now appear, which will provide a worthy home for the creations of Carlsbad, industries, as well as those of natives and foreign artists, thus fitting a long-felt want.

Mother's Pumpkin Pie.

A man's measure of success is shown up in the quality and quantity of how he makes a pie in time. The supreme end of everything even in politics is pie; pie for the elect few, it may be; pie for the great masses—perhaps; but nevertheless now and forevermore the one great cry is pie. And where is the pie that beats the good old pumpkin, pumpkin pie like mother made?

Aerial Ambugling.

The first aerial slugger has come to grief. He tried to fly from Italy into Switzerland and tumbled into the arms of a customs officer. Aerial ambugling is a fascinating game and the fact that it is hazardous makes it all the more so. Which means there's more trouble ahead for the unhappy tariff myrmidon.
