Partnership combines faith, health

In an innovative partnership, Botsford General Hospital and North Congregational Church will work together to bring health to all facets of the community.

The two Farmington Hills organizations kicked off this congregational health initiative at a rally recently.

"Mission Possible" was the theme for the event, which included worship, a potluck picnic and a health fair focusing on family and community health.

"Our partnership means that we have two groups serving the community in a way that allows us to see, serve and minister to the whole person — mind, body and spirit," said Rev. Mark Jensen, senior minister, North Congregational Church.

"Botsford is excited to be a part of this inaugural project with the faith community which reinforces our commitment to promoting a healthier community," added Margo Gorchow, administrator, hospital and community relations.

Botsford is a 336 bed osteopathic teaching hospital serving Farmington Hills. It is affiliated with the Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine. The Botsford site on the Internet is: <http://www.botsfordsystem.org>.

ON THE ROAD TO GOOD HEALTH, IT'S ALWAYS WISE TO BRING SOMEONE WHO KNOWS THE WAY.

No one is more qualified as a guide to healthy living than a primary care physician. And by choosing one from The Detroit Medical Center (DMC), you and your family will be assured expert care every step of the way.

To start, our primary care physicians specialize in one of four areas: family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics or ob/gyn. This allows you to select one who best suits your needs.

And with seven hospitals, 45 outpatient centers and nearly 700 office locations, it's easy to get the care you need within minutes from your home or workplace.

Finally, and perhaps the greatest advantage of having a primary care physician from the DMC, is the wealth of resources available to you. For instance, anyone in your family can be quickly referred to a specialist if needed. The DMC provides care in 80 medical specialties and subspecialties. In fact, the DMC is renowned for specialized treatment in many areas including cancer, heart disease and birth defects.

And, thanks in part to ongoing partnerships with the Karmanos Cancer Institute and Wayne State University School of Medicine, the DMC's role as a leader continues to grow.

In short, providing your family with some of the most comprehensive health care in the country starts with a primary care physician from the DMC.
