Roots aids Troy group with sweatshirt event

Between now and Saturday, Nov. 30, Roots (newly relocated from Birmingham to Troy) will host its first annual Sweatshirt Trade-In for charity.

The public is being encouraged to trade in any sweatshirt to Roots and receive 20 percent off the purchase of a new sweatshirt. The sweatshirts collected will be donated to Troy People Concerned, a non-profit service organization aiming to help these citizens of Troy who may find themselves in a crisis situation.

TPC serves as a 24-hour information center and referral agency, assisting clients on matters that deal with food, clothing, furniture and appliances, finances, counseling, employment, shelter or housing, and transportation, all free.

Roots customers are encouraged to bring in more than just a sweatshirt—for instance canned food, toys or other clothing. The store is at 2800 W. Big Beaver, Somerset North in Troy

Do you have high blood pressure?

High blood pressure can affect anyone, old and young, men and women, fat and thin, tall and short. It causes more preventable deaths than any other disease.

William Beaumont Hospital's Department of Preventive and Nutritional Medicine is beginning several new research studies on high blood pressure. All tests such as laboratory, electrocardiograms, stress tests, physical exams and ambulatory blood pressure monitoring are free of charge.

If you are interested in more information regarding these studies, please call our toll-free number:
