WILL VOTE ON WATER WORKS

COUNCIL WILL PUT IT UP TO THE PEOPLE

A Special Election to be Called at an Early Day to Determine the Matter

The Farmington City Council took up the water works question Monday night, and showed a disposition to give the voters an early opportunity to express their convictions upon the desirability of installing a system.

The matter came before the council in the form of a well signed petition from the voters of the village asking that the matter be submitted to the voters.

The board voted to call a special election for the purpose and then appointed a committee consisting of Aldermen Nichols, Myers and Groves, who are to go ahead and take the necessary steps to bring about the election.

The committee expects to push the thing along as fast as the legal formalities will permit and it is expected that if the proposition carries the work will be done next spring.

They adjourned for one week when the matter will be brought up and the committee will then be able to make a report as to the necessary procedure.

James Ryan, champion base ball fan of Farmington, drew a prize in the Evening News contest and gets a ticket to Saturdays game at Bennett Park.

An Account of a Baby Incubator

One rainy Sunday evening intending to make a call, I took a Wealthy Ave. car for Ramona Park, or Reeds Lake, one of the beautiful resorts, of the City of Grand Rapids, intending to go only for the ride. I asked if I could stay on the car until it made the return trip, but when I arrived at the lake the temptation to stay, and look about a once familiar place was too much for me. I will say this, the low dives and beer gardens have been taken away, so it is a perfectly safe place for a lady if she is alone.

The rain and mist, made the lake look more beautiful and the storm preventing a crowd, it was easier to see how certain improvements, the Street-Railway Co. has made improved the place. Of course I found the only show on the grounds, and as it was The Incubator Baby Show, there was another temptation I didn't resist, as I am as you all know I am a great lover of children and I will never be sorry if it did cost 10 cents. I think there may be some people in the vicinity of Farmington, who have never seen the show and I will try to describe at least the baby part.

A great many farmer's wives know what an incubator is, for they have one and understand the mechanical part, and the same principle governs both machines, only it seems to me, that the Lucu-Baby Machines are a combination of both Incubator and Brooder, only the air they breathe is purified and antiseptic, before they are allowed to breathe it and everything that is used is white is purified in the same way. The nurses and the babies were the most interesting part of the show, for they were certainly good looking.

There was one pair of twins of premature birth, who occupied one of the show cases and as they were very small they looked like twin dolls, only they stretched, and squirmed as no doll ever did but were just as pretty and perfect as any doll I ever saw. They were but three days old and acted as tho they enjoyed their warm nest.

There were six babies in all, and one little coon baby, who lay in his cradle was just as pretty and two comical for anything.

I might write and tell of the nurses care and feeding, but as my letter seems too long I will close this my first letter for the Farmington Enterprise.

A Gala Day at Plymouth

Next Thursday Plymouth is to have a big gala day and they have a couple of ball games scheduled for the occasion.

In the forenoon the Circle N team of Northville, will play the Redfords and the winner of this game will play Plymouth in the afternoon. First and second prizes of $15 and $10 are offered on each game.

Redford is trying to get up a big crowd of fans to go along.

The New Liquor Law

The new law in regards to observing holidays in the liquor business which went into effect Aug. 1, 1911, provides that saloons must close on New Years Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Fourth of July, Decoration Day and Labor Day, also on Sundays and on all general and primary election days only until the polls are closed. The new law thus eliminates Washington's Birthday and Columbus Day which were formerly holidays.

Clarence Farris and Miss Vina McCoy were married last week Wednesday, at Northville. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Weber.

KILLED A BY FALL

Lewis Neuman Fell From the Fifth Story of a Building

The body of Lewis Neuman was brought home to Farmington this week for burial in Oakwood Cemetery. He met an accidental death at Denver, Col., where he was engaged in painting on a hotel. He fell from a scaffold on the fifth story and crashed down through a skylight to the floor of the kitchen on the first floor. Although he lived for four hours the body was terribly mangled and nearly every bone was broken.

His wife accompanied the body to the old home, and the funeral was held by Rev. Geo. Gullen, at the home of Clyde Adams, on Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

Besides the wife he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Clyde Adams, of Farmington, and Mrs. V. H. Smith, who accompanied the wife from the west. His mother also survives.

Mr. Neuman was born and grew to manhood and also lived in the vicinity of Farmington until the past spring, when he left for the west.

Mr. Neuman had many friends in this vicinity, where he was held in high esteem, who are shocked and deeply grieved at his sudden death.

A Close and Exciting Ball Game

The ball game at Redford last Saturday, between the Farmingtons and Redfords, was a very pretty contest. A light rain had been sufficient to make the ground a little slippery and was the cause of a few of the errors.

Farmington first at bat scored twice and Redford did the same trick in their first time at bat. Thereafter it was a string of goose eggs that were marked up, on the score board for each team until the seventh inning which by agreement was to end the game on the account of the late start. Farmington failed to score in this inning and Redford got one over, thereby winning the game 3 to 2.

Both sides did some good work and the game was an interesting one from start to finish.

Former Schoolmates Meet

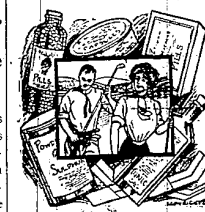

Last Friday Mrs. N. J. Eisenlord entertained in honor of Mrs. L. H. Heywood, of Chicago, and Mrs. F. N. Norton, of Ypsilanti. The other guests were Mrs. Whipple, Mrs. Lewis Mrs. Johnson and Miss Ida Steele, of Farmington, and Mrs. John Harger, of Detroit, and as they were all former school mates of the first mentioned ladies it is needless to say that the afternoon was a very enjoyable one in every way. A very inviting lunch tastefully served, was one of the features of the entertainment.

Telephone War at Chelsea

The recent agitation over at Chelsea, over the raise in telephone rates continues, and it is reported that the Bell people have taken out several phones. The parties who are engaged in organizing a mutual company are signing up subscribers by the score. An indication of the feeling of the people can be gathered by the fact that a petition is being circulated and freely signed in the farming community south of there to the effect that the signers will not patronize merchants who retain the Bell phone.

who pays out his good money for a cheap fence, and at the end of the first season finds a wreck of rusted, broken wires.

Why not avert all this trouble by getting

PEERLESS WOVEN WIRE FENCE

In the first place the construction of Peerless wire fence is scientifically correct—the one piece cross bars, and famous Peerless non-slipping knot and uniform tension of line-wires—makes a fence that will stand many hard bumps and jolts, without a sign of weakening.

Your dealer may be handling some other make of fence; it may give him a larger profit; do not let him persuade you to buy his fence; insist on Peerless. Make him.
