LIFE HEALTH
Accidents
The spine is a mighty shock absorber within the body and it is the structure which protects the spinal cord, the lifeline of the body's nervous system.
Sudden impacts of falls, collisions or "whiplash" which are too heavy for the spine to withstand can result in painful and often crippling — injuries.
The spine is composed of 24 vertebrae separated by discs. The spinal column contains the spinal cord, which is the lifeline of millions of nerves which carry vital energy to all parts of the body.
A "slipped disc" or a dislocated vertebra in any part of the spine can cause a severe inflammation, or pinched nerves, such obstruction can slow down the powerful nerve energy to one or more organs, causing malfunction and distress to that particular part of the body.
Scientific adjustment of the hands of a competent, skillful, chiropractor, can correct a slipped disc or the displacement, bring prompt relief and eliminate the possibility of future distressing effects. After any fall or accident the best thing to do is see a chiropractor for a scientific spinal examination. Another Health and Life Article from the office at.
