

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the house should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kan., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty-cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it in your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a trial bottle free of charge.

Address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, Dr. Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

HARLAN'S STOCK OF TOBACCO

Justice's inquiry About Lack of Good "Chewing" Brings to Him an Enormous Supply.

When the argument in the case to dissolve the tobacco trust was taking place before the Supreme court recently and the attorney for the defense was waxing hot in his oral plea, Justice Harlan remembered that his quality of "plug" had not been up to the standard for some time and he halted the eloquent advocate to ask:

"Why is it we can't get any good chewing tobacco in this country any more?"

The attorney was startled. He was not familiar with that phase of the tobacco business and he couldn't answer the question.

Justice Harlan's interrogatory got into the newspapers and it was published all over the country that the venerable jurist was unable to get any plug to his liking.

Then something happened. Tobacco by the plug, the candy and the half barrel began to come to the justice from admiring friends, and the shipments of tobacco have continued until he has a supply that will last him all his life if he lives to be a centenarian.

Justice Harlan is very fond of the "seed." While the court is in session his hand frequently slips under his sable robe to his hip pocket and comes back with a generous hunk of tobacco, and he does his best work under the inspiration of a good chew. —Indianapolis Star.

HOW SHE DID IT

Marine—Phyllis is always running down people when I go out with her in her auto.

Marion—Doesn't she ever get arrested?

Marine—No; they can't arrest you for gossiping, can they?

THOSE HARVARD MEN.

There is one very naughty young man who attends school up at Cambridge, Mass. He just simply out-reckited the other day and came down here and spent three days.

"I must go to see the dentist," he remarked with a bored expression to the room clerk of an uptown hotel, "then I must catch the noon train."

"But why go to the dentist?" asked the room clerk. "Your teeth are all right, aren't they?"

"Sure, but I need a certificate from the dentist to account for my absence."

The room clerk, who thought that he was used to the wicked ways of the world, was quite overcome.—New York Sun.

MEASURING RAINDROPS.

The simplest method yet devised to ascertain the size of raindrops is as follows: The drops are allowed to fall into a layer of dry flour one inch in depth, which is exposed to the rain for a few seconds only. The flour is then set aside until the pellets of dough formed by the drops have hardened sufficiently to be picked out. Experiments with measured drops of water falling into the flour have proved that the pellets differ little in size from the drops that produce them. The largest drops yet tested by a prominent scientist somewhat exceeded one-fifth of an inch in diameter; but most of them were much smaller. The size varies with the kind of clouds from which the rain falls.

HIS REASONS.

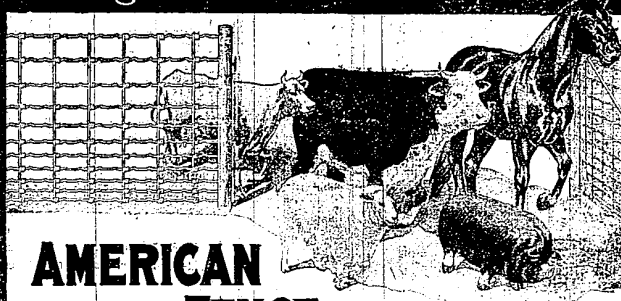

"So you didn't ask papa if you could marry me! Now, why not?"

"Because, my love, he looked so forbidding."

"You say he is an active reformer?"

"Well, he gets tickled at a great deal."

Through the Gate or Not at All

AMERICAN FENCE

Made of Hard, Stiff Wire, of Honest Quality

Good Fences are a farm investment that bring the most returns for the least money

ARE you losing money? If you had a hole in your pocket, out of which you were losing hard-earned dollars, would you sew it up? The time has arrived when a fence around the farm is as much a necessity as a cultivator.

If you are feeding 40 or 500 cows in a dry lot, allowing good, green feed to go to waste on other portions of your farm, you have a hole in your pocket, out of which you are losing good, hard-earned dollars. Sew it up. Look up an American Fence dealer and let him show you how a few dollars invested in fence will yield a big big rate of interest on feed saved.

American Fence is made of hard, stiff steel. It is made of a quality of wire drawn expressly for woven-wire-fence purposes. Galvanized by latest improved process—the best that the skill and experience of years has taught. Built on the elastic, knip-joint (patented) principle, which effectually protects the stay or upright wires from breaking under hard usage.

The real test of a fence is the service you get out of it. Test, judge and compare American Fence under any and all conditions, and you will find that the steel, the structure and the galvanizing are equal in durability, strength and efficiency to the hardest usage.
