Garden club hosts arts and crafts sale

Although mother nature has both fooled and delighted us in extending warm summer days and beautiful blossoms, the season steadily ticks down to fall and finally the frost is on the pumpkin and it's time again for the North Farmington Garden Club's yearly arts and crafts sale.

This marks the club's 19th annual event always held the first Saturday in November (this year Nov. 1) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Dunkle Middle School on Twelve Mile Rd. between Orchard Lake and Farmington roads. Admission is free and refreshments are available.

This year's craft sale will feature many new exhibitors and unusual craft selections as well as many returning exhibitors. The craft materials are handmade and feature many dried plant and flower arrangements.

This event is the only fundraiser sponsored each year by the North Farmington garden club. Proceeds from the sale of tables and items made by the club defray many expenses incurred throughout the local community on beautification projects such as landscaping at Dunkle Middle School, the Five Senses Gardens at the YMCA, the Warner Mansion and Heritage Park.

Additionally because the club is a member of the Michigan Federated Garden Club its efforts are extended in Farmington's name to the Michigan State Childrens Garden, the Frederick Meier Gardens, Operation Wildflower and World Gardening.

The club welcomes new members. No experience is necessary. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday each month at noon at the Farmington Hills library on Twelve Mile Road. Call membership chairman Leticia Moore at 553-2368. For more information about the craft show, call Pam Schultes at 661-2353.

Farmington junior heads to Washington

Free concert's on Sunday

Two of the metro areas most well known and respected musical organizations will be performing as part of Nardin Park United Methodist Church's free music series.

The Detroit Lutheran Singers and the Vanguard Brass enjoy reputations for excellence and their joint program on Sunday, Nov. 2, at 3:30 p.m. will afford the audience an opportunity to hear both groups in one concert.

Detroit Lutheran Singers will offer many selections, including works by Rachmaninoff, Thompson, Pratorius and Ives. The Vanguard Brass will be joining with the Lutheran Singers on several numbers. A reception will follow in the church's Fellowship Hall, 29887 W. 11 Mile Road.
