Season ends for some teams

It will be the ninth and final week of high school football for a majority of Observerland teams. However, 8-0 Farmington Harrison (Class A-Region III) and 7-1 Redford Catholic Central (Class AA-Region III) have already locked up poat-sesson spots, while 6-2 Westland John Glenn (Class AA-Region III) can make the cut as well with a victory Friday over rival Wayne Memorial (1-7).
All three teams made the play-tory Friday over Ival Wayne Memorial (1-7). All three teams made the playoffs last year. Another interesting scenario is unfolding in Class D-Region IV where 2-6 Redford St. Agatha is still running fifth. The Aggies, who meet 6-2 Detroit Holy Redecemer on Snurday, could qualify with an upset win in the Catholic League crossover and a Detroit East Catholic defeat. As far as the prediction race goes, yours truly and counterpart Dan O'Meara each finished 11-d last week.

O'Meara, who holds a three-

11-4 lost week.
O'Meara, who holds a threegame lead with a cumulative record to 93-24, appears to be in the driver's seat to take the crown. Emons, who must go for broke this week, is 90-27 for the year.

Here is a preview of this week's action:
