C. D. POTTER, Farmington.

Come around and say 'Hello' to me at the State Fair

I am going to be out at the State Fair all week and every minute I will keep open house for the business men from the country.

I want you to come around and talk automobile with me.

I will have a complete line of the excellent Cartercars with me and will gladly explain all their good features to you. It will do you good to get acquainted with the Cartercar, and you will then understand how logical is its slogan, "The Car Ahead."

You will clearly see why they are the very best cars for farmers and all other people.

Cartercars are designed and constructed for the men who want the highest quality at a fair price. They are not the "cheaper than walking" cars—neither are they for "millionaire clubs" only. Cartercars are practical cars for practical men—and such men have long appreciated them.

For several years I have made close observation of the construction and the service given by the Cartercar Friction Transmission and I am fully convinced that it is the only transmission that is suited absolutely to the needs of the farmer.

This transmission makes the Cartercar EXTREMELY EASY TO CONTROL. The driver has any number of speeds

There are no jars or jerks for the occupants of the Cartercar. The driver can stop the car—start it—change the speed from the highest to the lowest, or even reverse it without the occupants feeling the change.

In all kinds of tests, the hardest that could be imagined, the Cartercar has proven its worth and ability.

The Cartercar rolls along swiftly and noiselessly, brushing everything on the pike. It will take a 50 per cent grade bandily, and on account of the strong brakes is perfectly safe coming down on the other side.

In addition to the strong hub brakes the driver has at all times the friction reverse. The car can be stopped very quickly, making it extremely safe for anyone to drive. My wife and eight-year-old son drive our Cartercar all around Detroit and out into the country, and they enjoy it fully as much as I do.

I know several men who bought some of the first cars we made six and seven years ago and THEY ARE STILL DRIVING THEM!

I am expecting to see you. Come around and shake hands with me whether you are thinking of buying a car or not. Maybe I can tell you some interesting things about automobiles; anyway it will be worth while to see this powerful, simple automobile.
