Love And Respect
Love, mutual respect, and consideration are the foundation for any good relationship. When a couple truly loves and respects each other, their relationship is usually more meaningful and satisfying; however, a person may love someone deeply and not always be respectful or considerate of them. We should always be aware of the feelings of our loved ones and friends, and realize that unkind actions and words can be hurtful. God not only loves us, He is also respectful and considerate of us. He always loves us, and has shown us respect and consideration by giving us free will. There is a picture that shows Jesus standing in front of an outside door with no door handle. The only way Jesus can enter is if we let Him in. God never forces Himself on us and He is always standing at our door, waiting for an invitation to come in. Inviting God into a loving and respectful relationship will ensure blessings and mutual happiness.

Listen! I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come into his house and eat with him, and he will eat with me.
— Rev. Robert B. Revell, October 2008
