STREET CAR MEN TOOK A DAY OFF

ALL LINES TIED FOR A DAY BY A STRIKE

Agreement Soon Reached and Men Get a Substantial Increase in Wages

Wednesday morning people awakened to find that the street car men were out on a strike and not a wheel turning on either the interurban or the Detroit city lines. After an attempt, extending over a period of several months, to agree upon a board of arbitrators the men lost patience and voted to go out and they put the order into immediate effect. All day long the leading citizens of Detroit were making desperate attempts to get the company and men to an agreement, but it was not until about midnight that a compromise was effected. The men are to receive within a half cent per hour of what they asked for and they are completely satisfied. The scale is now 23c per hour for the first six months, 27½c for the next year and 29½c thereafter. The cars immediately resumed their schedules and everything was again in working order Thursday morning after only a day's rest.

BUSHNELL GETS LIMIT

Other Sentences Imposed in the Circuit Court by Judge Smith

Harry Bushnell was found guilty by the circuit court jury of an attempt on the life of Wm. Tate and Judge Smith sentenced him to state prison for five to ten years, the limit under the verdict, which was an attempt to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder. Judge Smith, in his charge, intimated that he believed Bushnell guilty of the death of Bevier which occurred under similar circumstances.

F. H. Patterson, confessed swindler and forger, was sentenced to Jackson prison for 3 to 10 years. Patterson passed a bad check for $80 and by pleading guilty rather than standing trial knocked off two years from the sentence which would otherwise have been imposed.

Chester Tibbits, convicted of burglarizing the general store at Leonard, was sentenced to Jackson for 5 to 15 years. Tibbits is 50 years of age, and has already served two terms in prison.

Harry Yancy, colored, charged with resisting an officer and being an habitual criminal, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to Jackson for from 1 to 2 years.

Willard Forest, who pleaded guilty of stealing rings from Landlord E. E. Robson of the Detroit Hotel at Rochester, was released on probation for two years.

Leslie Curtis, one of a trio who robbed the Columbia pool room, opening the safe and taking its contents, was sent to the Detroit house of correction for 63 days.

Oliver Beatty, who pleaded guilty to stealing a horse, harness and gold watch, was released, on suspended sentence until the first day of the December term of court.

John W. Walker of Waterford, for larceny from the person, was released on probation for two years.

Geo. Campbell, accused of manslaughter in the death of Benjamin Day, stood mute when arraigned and his trial will be taken up some time in October. Judge Smith then excused the jurors until Oct. 2.

Sunday Services in M. E. Church

M. E. services, Sept. 24: J. A. Griffin, M. A., graduate of Toronto University, will preach in the morning in the absence of the pastor, who is attending conference at Flint. In the evening a song service will be given under the auspices of the M. E. choir.

Good Showing by M. E. Church

The officials of the M. E. church are pleased to report all conditions fully met with some money in the treasury. This is very commendable indeed when we consider that the church not only raised their pastor's salary $200, but during the past two years have raised a sum of $4500 for building purposes. The official board unanimously requested their pastor to return for another year and are petitioning conference that he be returned.

On the occasion of President Taft's visit to Detroit and Pontiac last Monday the D. U. R. provided excellent service for the occasion and in addition issued in advance a very handsome folder in colors with beautiful half tone pictures of scenes along their various lines. A striking feature of the folder was an outline picture of the president's face over the face of the map. It was a very striking production of the printers' art and the company's enterprise.

Workmen have been busy laying cement walk on the lower end of Grand River avenue this week.

OFFICERS ON A MAN HUNT

CHASED BUNCH OF DAGOS FOR SEVERAL MILES

Captured Four Who Were Armed and Threatened to Shoot Their Pursuers

A man hunt took place in Redford Sunday that caused considerable excitement for a time and in which Village Marshall H. J. Willmarth, assisted by several men, ran down and captured a quartet of Italians, who were out from Detroit on a bird-shooting expedition.

They were at first discovered by Ed. Forker and were shooting at quail near his place. He notified the officers and the chase began. Willmarth secured the assistance of Fred Hantz, Cullen Watkins, Ray Watkins and others and they started after the fellows who immediately started on a run across the fields and through the woods.

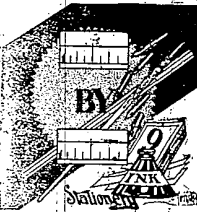

Hantz was the nearest and never lost sight of the fellows, but was several times held up by the fleeing dagos who pointed their guns at him and threatened to shoot if he did not turn back. Fred stuck to the trail however and followed on, driving the fellows through the barbed wire fences and brush at a lively pace. Meanwhile Willmarth secured a rig and taking a roundabout course with the horses on the run headed them off down on the Mill road and with his gun leveled ordered them to halt and surrender. They doggedly refused to drop their guns and held on until Hantz came up and took them away from them. They were marched back to town at the point of guns and made a striking sight as they tramped along with their clothing in tatters caused by their hurried passage through brush and wire fences.

They were locked up in the village jail for a few hours until their lawyer came out from the city and secured their release upon the promise that he would have them on hand the next day for trial.

They put in appearance as agreed, but upon motion of their attorney the case was adjourned until next Tuesday and they were released on bail. The charge is violating the game law, but they may be again arrested on a more serious charge, that of threatening the lives of the officers.

School Exhibits Were Lost After having spent months in the preparation, the teachers and pupils of the Farmington schools are greatly disappointed because their exhibit for the state fair was lost. Superintendent Goodrich took the box to the D. U. R. freight house for shipment and it got lost in some manner before he had billed it out. A year ago the school took the prizes on their work, notably on drawing, in competition with exhibits from the large city schools of the state where special instructors are provided. This year's work is said to be even better than a year ago and the disappointment at its loss is very keen.

Concluding that there was not enough land to be had on the site next to the Enterprise office, the council has secured an option on the lot owned by Mrs. Giff near Ben Meyers' place and will sink a test well at once. If sufficient flow of water is found the water works plant will be installed at that point. The contract for the test well has been let to A. M. Kinney & Son of South Lyon, who are expert well drillers.

INCH BY INCH we are crowding the old style high-priced way of conducting the stationary business to the wall. We go on the principle that it is better to sell much at a little profit than a little at a great profit. THE USE OF GOOD STATIONERY by our methods is put within the reach of all. And as a writer is judged by the stationery used we help our customers in the esteem of others. Let us help you.

Do you wish to learn all about banking and banking terms? We will be glad to explain anything you do not understand, but the very best educator is a bank account itself. Practically all business men have learned what they know of money matters by the actual handling of money in business. Even a small account is an educator, if you cannot afford a large one. With an account with us you thus kill two birds with one stone—keep your money safe and learn the laws of finance.
