

Where can I find?

This feature is dedicated to helping readers locate sources for hard-to-find merchandise in the marketplace. If you've seen any of the items in your retail travels (or basement) please call Where Can I Find? (248) 901-2505. Slowly and clearly, leave your name, number and message, and you should see your input in the following Sunday's column.

Here's what we found:

- Chess dresses are at Amy's 3750 Woodward (north of Mack across from Orchestra Hall) at (313) 832-2466.
- Shiny Sinks Plus can be ordered through the mail for information, 1-800-433-6818.
- Refills for a bean bag can be found in the JC Penney spring catalog, two cubic feet for $10.99.
- Raggedy Ann dolls were sold through the JC Penney Christmas catalog. We found someone who make a 36-inch doll for $50.
- Music Search is a 900-number and that is not toll free. It is 1-900-737-6647.
- Mennan shaving tale is no longer in production, a tip from a reader, check around at small drug stores, they might carry it. (Or try Clubman, it works just as good, he opined).
- Bronner's, Frankenmuth has the white Hummel nativity set for Pat.
- Several readers offered Pit games.
- At might try Renee Camera Service and General

Allen & Co. sells them at (248) 640-9246 - read the Alternative Medicine Digest for more sources.

• Chestnuts in a jar were purchased during the holidays at Williams Sonoma stores - Laurel Park, Twelve Oaks, Somerset South.

• Lenore Ewald of Livonia has three years worth of Reader's Digests from the '70s she wants to deliver to any local agency that would like them. Many of the magazines have never been opened.

• Barb Wojcik has a 20-something-strong collection of Fannykins, the brown and tan statuettes from Hallmark, purchased back in the '70s. She would like to find a good home for them with a collector.

We're still looking for:

• A bunch of plastic bow tacks for the Wham-O Bownmatic for Connie Jordan. "I know they don't make this anymore, but I still make the bows and I need the tacks!"

• Al is looking for Wood to Wood, (similar to Liquid Gold), purchased through Family Circle about five years ago. It is a self polisher for cabinets.

• Douglas is looking for old home Jeopardy game from the '60s, '70s and '80s.

• Susan wants the old board game Go to the Head of the Class.

• Deb is looking for Ivory Snow flakes for a Girl Scout project.

• A lapdesk with a formica top and beanbag base for Carol.

• A long-sleeve button-down cardigan of short length, to wear under a waist-length jacket for Casey of Livonia.

• The Littlefoot toy figure from The Land Before Time.

• Marilyn is looking for a book Star Fish by Irv Furman.

Sears will test market Glide's Club merchandise

Sears, a national sponsor of Glide's Club, will test sales of special logoed merchandise for the non-profit, cancer support organization named in honor of comedian Gilda Radner.

The merchandise will be available from Sunday, February 8 through Sunday, March 22 in the Twelve Oaks Mall store in Novi.

Hudson's offers grants

Hudson's 1998 Community Giving Guidelines are now available to non-profit organizations seeking funding for programs involving children and youth. The CGP focuses on agencies that nurture youth with emphasis in three areas: Preventing Child Abuse, Developing Self-Sufficiency and Education Through the Arts. Organizations interested in applying for a grant should obtain guidelines from their local Hudson's store executive office, or call (248) 443-6219.

Shop offers promotion

The Shirt Box (formerly of Southfield) is celebrating its first year anniversary at Courtyard Center, 32500 Northwestern in Farmington Hills. To mark the occasion, the store is offering shoppers free monogramming, socks and toiletry bags with each purchase made throughout the month. Owner Ron Elkus said he is also hosting a month-long contest where customers must guess the number of buttons in a jar to win a $100 merchandise certificate. The winner will be announced Feb. 28.

Valentine gifts from The Zoo

The Detroit Zoo has a $60 Wildlife Preservers Valentine's Day package. It includes sponsorship of an animal for a year, a photo of the animal you're adopting, an adoption certificate suitable for framing, a biannual newsletter, a fact sheet about the animal, a box of Gayles chocolates and a beanbag replica of the animal you selected. For more details call (248) 541-5717.

Antique pins arrive

Crimson Rose Antiques on the upper level of Merrilwood Collection, across the street from the Birmingham Theater, has a collection of jewelry pieces that would make very special Valentine gifts from the early 1900's. There are many pieces from the Victorian, Edwardian, Art Nouveau, Arts and Crafts and deco periods. For more details call (248) 203-2950.
