and also is one of the area's better long jumpers.

In the 100, she was second in the WLAA. As a long jumper, Fletcher was fifth in the conference and fourth in the regional and county meets.

She had best times of 12.4 in the 100 and 26.9 in the 200. Her best long jump was 16.8%.

Mayberry and Fletcher were on the 400 relay team with Kennedy that qualified for state. Sophomore Cassie Jemison also was part of that relay but is playing golf this year.

However, the Hawks have back junior sprinter and long jumper Cierra Colbert, who missed nearly all of last season due to injury. Harrison will be helped in the sprints by a pair of sophomores — Ohio transfer Temica Clayton and Lias Resemary, who returns with experience in the relays. "With Temica, we should be improved in the 400 over the last couple years," Babeck said. "She should be able to help us there a lot."

Farmington Hills Mercy

The Marlins have some work to do before they can seriously think about defending their Catholic League championship, coach Gary Servais said Tuesday following an 84-44 loss to Livonia Ladywood in the team's first dual meet.

nia Ladywood in the dual meet.

"Hopefully, we had a wake-up call," he said. "We all have to get here every day and start working. Otherwise, this is going to continue the rest of the year."

Mercy has won the Catholic League championship six times in this decade, including five straight (1990-94), and there's a chance the Marlins could be there at the end of the season

There's always a chance, Servais said. Don't ever count us out! It all depends on what (the Mercy girls) want to do.'

Senior Jackie Segue is the defending league champion in the 800 run and was second in the 1,600.

The Marlins will be strong in the distance events with juniors Erin Thomas and Christina Andriola also returning along with senior Danielle Wroblewski and sophomore Anjum Ahmad.

In the league meet, Andriola was third in the 1,600 and fourth in the 600 and 3,200. Thomas was third in the 3200.

Mercy returns its league champion 3,200 relay team of Segue, Andriola, Thomas and Mercy lost Shawntika Farr, Kathy Telford and Jennifer Brazeal to graduation but still has three good throwers in juniors CeC Johnson and Martha Obringer and freshman Judy Telford. Johnson was third in the league in the shot put and was a state qualifier.

Junior Jamie Snow and Grodin are quality hurdlers. Snow was third in the 100 hurdles and fourth in the 300 at the league meet.

Sorvais is still looking for sprinters since some good ones decided to compete for club teams instead of their school. Carter and Burnisky are the top quarter-milers.
