There are always consolations in There are always consolations in any misfortune. One Pronohman tries to assuage the gried of his afflicted nation by remarking that Mona Lisa's amile is nothing more than a consumptive grimace. Moreover, it is the secret opinion locked in many other breasts that the famous picture lady would never be a winner in an up-to-case beauty show.

An aviator in Illinois broke another record by taking his mother with him on an air ride 2,500 feet high. But then it is no unusual thing for young men to have their mothers "up in the air."

A New York broker is looking for a wife who has "the English conserva-tism and love of home, the vivacity of the French and the intensity and fer-vor of the Italian girl." The phrase: "Man wants but little here below" will have to be revised.

It has officially been decided in Bos-ton that a woman is young until she is 35. Only cold, hard officialdom, by the way, even though generous in its ai-lowance, would venture to put a defi-title limit to such an intangible mys-tery as a woman's age.

Why doesn't the Paris editor chal-lenged by a lecturer on woman's rights and accused of cowardice be-cause he doesn't accept the challenge, name live mice as the weapons to be used?

Parey Flynn of Hartford, Conn., has been sent to jall fifty-seven times in sixteen years, and claims to hold the record. Are there any rival claim-acts?

Make Fight on Secret Societies.

At the annual state meeting of the Michigan State Christian association held at Kalamazoo, plans were made for a fight against every secret society in Michigan. The 100 preachers present declared most emphatically that there was nothing so described the variance of young people as secret organizations, and people as secret organizations, and reformers, parents and legislators are not often brought face to face with fraternalism as it really is.

"Fraternal societies yield to no discipline. In states where legislation has been passed abolishing school fraternities, they continue to exist. The objectionable feature, secrety, most always remains. Although Michigan has passed and anti-fraternity bill, we are not through dealing with high school fract societies.

"Secret societies almost invariably breed rowdyism, hazing, drinking, deaburchery, extravagance and disincilination for duty. These are the things fostered in our schools and there are the things we must fight."

Manitoba; Saskatohewan and Alberta.

The reports that coine to hand from the wheat fields of the western Canadan provinces abow remrkably good yields in all parts. Yields are recorded of wheat going 35 and 40 busbels in many places, and cats from 60 to 100 busbels per acre. Barley and gaz are splendld. The thousands of Americans throughout the United States who have friends in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta will be pleased to learn of the great success that has followed their regorer, blood of the growing of grain, but have also gone into the cattle industry. On the trowing of grain, but have also gone into the cattle industry. On the success that has followed the cattle industry. On the success that have so abundant there, in almost all districts, make this industry safe and profuble. The land sales reported by the rail-way companies and by the different land companies show the great increase that will likely take place during the next year in farming operations. What has been said time and that conducts the place of the continent where the same opportunities are afforded the man looking for a home, for the young man starting out in life, the man with a growing up family, who desires wider scope for his ambition. The Canadian government agents located at different plonts in the states will be glad to advise the reader of the conditions, and relate to him instances of the great stocess that has followed farming in Western Canada.
