long jumper. She caught on quickly and continues to improve."

Nicole Dettloff, senior, Stevenson: Pole vaulters need leg strength to reach their maximum height and that was no problem for Dettloff.

She finished second at the regional and third in the WLLA meet before clearing a personal best 6-6 at the state meet.

"Nicole is one of Stevenson's most versatile athletes," Holmberg said. "In addition to pole vault, she is our best sprinter and long jumper. She was a major contributor for four years."

RUNNING EVENTS

Nicole Herring, senior, John Glenn: The senior scored 151 points for the season, recording a personal best of 15.2 seconds in the 100 hurdles, a school record. She was a regional champion.

"Nicole is a hard-working athlete who gives 100 percent effort all the time," Kitchen said. "She's a good athlete and great team leader."

Katie Sherron, junior, Stevenson: Sherron was third in the regional in the 300 hurdles and a WLLA champion. She had a personal best of 47.5.

"Katie worked extremely hard to make herself a better hurdler and she got better with every meet," Holmberg said. "She ran cross country to develop some stamina and became a major contributor to that team, also."

Mahogany Fletcher, senior, Harrison: Fletcher's school record time of 12.2 seconds is also a WLLA record. She also was the Oakland County and regional champion.

"Mahogany is a great all-around athlete," Harrison coach Mark Gabcock said. "She really excelled as a senior. She stayed focused and had a terrific year."

Nicolette Jarrett, junior, John Glenn: Jarrett scored 175 points as a junior. Could 200 be within reach next year? Jarrett had a personal best of 24.8 in the 200 dash, a school record. She was the WLLA champion, placed second at the regional and was eighth in the state.

"Nicolette is a great athlete who excels in many track events," Kitchen said. "She's a great competitor with lots of potential."

Autumn Hicks, freshman, Salem: Hicks had a busy first state meet, taking eighth place in the 400 with a personal best of 58.99 and leading off the 1,600 relay. She placed in four events at the WLLA meet, helping the Rockets to the team championship.

She had a personal best of 27 seconds in the 200 and cleared a personal best 5 feet in the high jump.

"Autumn developed into an outstanding track-and-field athlete in this her freshman season," Gregor said. "She was the leading point producer on an outstanding team. Her competitiveness carried her to a level seldom experienced by a freshman. She is our team's Most Valuable Athlete and likely will improve throughout her career."

Kelly McNeilance, senior, Stevenson: McNeilance was her team's leading scorer. She won two events and ran on two relays that placed first in the WLLA and regional meets.

Her individual glory came in the 800 and 1,600 races and she also ran on the winning 1,600 and 3,200 relays. She placed seventh at the state meet in the 1,600 and had Observerland's best times in the 800 and 1,600 open races.

"Kelly ended a Stevenson track career with her best year ever," Holmberg said. "She ran four events in nearly every meet. She did more than any coach had a reason to expect of an athlete."

Kelly Travis, senior, Stevenson: Like McNeilance, Travis was a four-year standout, qualifying as a senior in three events at the state meet.

She won the 3,200 meters at the regional and took second in the 1,600.

"Kelly accomplished more in the last four years than any previous Stevenson runner," Holmberg said. "She qualified and placed in the state meet all four years. She was at the center of Stevenson success during her career."

Alyson Flohr, freshman, Salem: Flohr is another reason the future looks bright for the Rockets. She placed 13th in the 3,200 run at the state meet with a school-record time of 11:28.1. She also placed first in the 1,600 run with a time of 5:21.4 at the Ann Arbor Meet of Champions - the fastest time at Salem in that event since 1985.

She placed first in the 3,200 and second in the 1,600 at the WLLA meet. She showed versatility, running the 400 in 1:02 and the 800 in 2:30.

"Alyson made an immediate impact on our team as a freshman by aggressively challenging some of the best distance runners in our area," Gregor said. "She was never intimidated by reputations and eventually earned the respect of her opponents. She capped off an awesome first year by setting a school record in her last race. Alyson earned the right to be considered Salem's most valuable freshman."

RELAY TEAMS

400 relay, Westland John Glenn: Kaitlyn Adams, Herring, Chandler and Jarrett were outstanding in individual events and as a sprint foursome, setting a school record with a 49.1 time. They were first in the WLLA, second in the regional and sixth in the state.

"They're a versatile group of talented athletes who help each other excel," Glenn coach John Kitchen said.

800 relay, Westland John Glenn: The same foursome of Adams, Herring, Chandler and Jarrett was undefeated in dual meets and had a best time of 3:45. The Rockets were WLLA champions and regional runners-up.

"They're some of the best athletes I have ever had the pleasure to coach," Kitchen said.

1,600 relay, Plymouth Salem: Hicks, sophomore Brynne DeNeen and Rachel Jones and senior Katie Bonner were first in six of seven dual meets and the Athens Relays. The Rockets were among the top three in five other meets and eighth in the state. Their best time was 4:54.1.

"Autumn got the relay started with a competitive opening leg," Gregor said. "And Brynne followed with an excellent second leg. Rachel joined the group late in the season to cut additional time with her outstanding speed, and Katie finished a great high school career by bringing the baton in with unmatched effort."

3,200 relay, Livonia Stevenson: Travis, sophomore Andrea Parker, senior Danielle Harris and McNeilance had the best time at 9:31.7 after setting a school record (9:29.4) last year. They were WLLA and regional champions and placed eighth in the state finals.

"This is a veteran relay team with three seniors who placed in the state meet three years in a row," Holmberg said. "All four girls are individually ranked near the top in the listings and together make an awesome team."
