The trie have a steady gig at all Red Wings home games, playing 40 dates a year at the Joe Louis Arean Olympia Room and play ence a month at Edison's in Birmingham.

In 1994 they released a CD, The Kay Player, but the music on the CD is only half the story.

"The stuff we do on record is classic pinno trie, but we play another repertoire that uses electronic instruments. I have a large collection of keyboard instruments that I use when I play a concert, said Schunk.

At Montreux, the trie will play both kinds of music.
"Fusion was an attempt by some jazz artists, mostly from the bands of Miles Davis, who wanted to seek a wider audionce," Schunk said. "It had the energy of rock with the sophistication of jazz."
Schunk, who has been living in Redford since 1987, said he decen't have the time hed like to compose because it's always difficult to round up enough work.

"I'm always listening to other things to keep my mind open. It's important to be open as a musican. If I stuck with one kind of music, I'd become stagnant."

Joining Liquid Soul on this tour will be jazz singer Nina Simone's deughter Simone, who recently performed in the touring company of "Ront" at the Fisher Theatre. Williams said she adds a more accessible pop sould be a single look to than to record the music. One of the metivations for the samplings was to pay homage to the jazz greats that have gone before. "A lot of our audience never heard that stuff," Williams said. "A story about 'Sait Peanuts' Our rapper (Dirty M.F.) was like 'Sait Peanuts' what's that' He had never heard the song before. Then we did our switch on it to 'Chocolate Covered Nuts' and he started listening to it and now it's his favorite tune. He went out and bought the original."

By keeping a foot in many musical camps, Williams has been attracting a new audience to jazz and attracting a jazz audience to other kinds of music. "I like all styles of music, for me I don't like the energy of rock, the hard element of it. In jazz you have the same, but for me, jazz is the ultimate creativity outlet."

Diane Schuur

Singer Diane Schuur

Singer Diane Schuur offers a more traditional approach to juzz. She has been hailed by critics for sustaining the legacy of the great female juzz singers – Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughan and Dianh Washington.

Schuur even paid tribute to her idole in her CD-In Tribute."

Schuur will perform 7 p.m. Monday-Sept. 7, on the Ford/Air Touch Cellular stage with the Duke Ellington Orchestra under the direction of Paul Ellington, the great composer/band leader's grandson.

Tve always loved Duke Ellington and his work a lot," Schuur said in a telephone interview. If grow up with it, listening to In My Solitude, "Preude to a Kiss." I worked with the Duke Ellington Orchestra at Carnegie Hall.

Schuur has also worked with the Count Basic Orchestra, winning a Grammy in 1986 for her album with the Basie ensemble.

The Duke Ellington band is a bit more complex than Basic.

Some of their stuff is not as upbeat as Basie, Basie really does swing." Schuur said.

The singer wasn't sure what she would be singing with the Ellington band, though she said it would not be a program of Ellington songs. She will sing songs by her other favorites—Gershwin, Porter and Kern.

"I like to be able to relate to a song I'm doing on an emotional level as well as musical. I like to be musically challenged," she said.

"You saw it! Isn't that weird?"
Bunkley said excitedly. "We've been doing a let of things for VH1. They've taken us under their wing. They just kind of like us and are willing to help us out and allow us to get some expeure before the new CD comes out."
Tom Buffolano, vice president of event marketing and promotions for VH1, said that VH1 was so impressed with The Atomic Fireballs that the channel hired the band to play a TGI Cablevision event in Colorado last week-end.

"Everywhere they go, people just go nuts. People are just dancing all over the place. I'm not sure how much airpley they get but that seems not to matter because they're so infectious," Buffolane explained.

"VH1 has been supporting the "VH1 has been supporting the recent surge in popularity of swing music but a lot of the bands we're working with the Cherry Poppin' Daddies, the Brian Setzer Orchestra, Royal Crown Revue – obviously are becoming nationally known and we found that working with The Atomic Fireballs you can take a band who obviously is really good and put them on our stage and use them for some of our events and you get a huge crowd reaction of it."

Novel idea

For years, Bunkley was the lend singer of the ska band Gangster Fun, which he formed as a student at Oakland University in Rochester When Gangster Fun ran dry, Bunkley, a 1987 OU graduate, took a break from music to pursue an advanced degree in sociology and work as a glassblower at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.
In 1996, he and trumpeter

James Bostek came up with the idea to start a jump blues/swing band – long before swing bands like the Cherry Popin' Daddies, Mighty Blue Kings, and Big Bad Voodoo Daddy hit the charts.

"I guess I just kept going back (in time). I was really interested in skn. I always listened to old music – old soul and blues and jump blues. I was thinking about a pure jump blues thinking about a pure jump blues thinking about a pure jump blues from the present that I wanted to bring those in as well. It's really pure "90s music, not '30s and '40s. But—I-loye and respect the music-form that era." Bunkley weplained.

"90s music, net '30s and '40s. But

"I low's and respect the musicform that era." Bunkley explained.
For research, Bunkley, who possesses a large record collection, looked to his friend Jason Schusterbauer, booking and promotions manager for Majestic Theatre Center, including the Garden Bowl.

"When John started talkinga bout forming this band, the whole swing fad was not even on the map. It just wasn't there. The timing, I think, is incredible."

"When he sat down and listend to some old records, it just didn't seem like it would be viable."

Schusterbauer explained. "All he wanted to de was start a band and play the music that he loved. The last thing I'm sure in his mind was to conquer the music industry. It seems like that's happening."

This summer, The Atomic Fireballs inked a multi-album deal with Lava/Atlantic Records, Jason Flom, president of Lava Records, was turned on to The Atomic Fireballs by a co-worker Rick Goetz who heard a track from "Birth of the Swerve" on Des Moines, Iewa, radio station. "The Fireballs live show is one of the most exciting and fun live shows Ive ever seen," and Flom, whose record company also signed Detroit rapper Kid Rock.

"It's highlighted by John Bunkley who, in my opinion, is a superstar in the making. He is charismatic. He's get style for days and his moves. he's on a different planet than the rest of
u. You can't help smilling.
"The band's musicianship is, it an energy throughout the show that's just impossible to resist.
Every guy is a character in the band and then there's the most important thing which is the songs. With songs like 'Caviar and Chittins,' I think they can emerge as one of the most important swing bands that's out there."
Schusterbauer agreed that The Schusterbauer agreed that The Atomic Fireballs' live shows,

Atomic Fireballs' live shows, complete with the cane swirling Bunkley, are its strong points.

"When they (fane) actually see the band, they see see a band that swings but it's a hard jump blues style that nabody else does, largely because John and what a showman he is. With his dancing and his singing, there's so much soul thers. There's not a lot of that with, what people call, swing bands today," he explained.

"That's what's going to propel them to erush and conquer all the swing bands. They're just a fun band to see. There really is no one else like them out on the horizon anywhere. They can go toe-to-toe with any hip stylish swing band on the planet. I'm astounded that VHI and Atlantic Records (pay attention to them) and that they're actually being embraced by this music industry."
