Tomey, 6-foot-3 and 230 pounds, has always been big fur his age and a hard thrower. He remembers a time in CVO when an opposing batter's biggest fear came true. The player is now a classmate at CC.

"When he got to CC, he said 'Do you remember me? I'm the kid who didn't want to bat against you, because I thought you were going to hit me in the head," Tomey remembers. "His mether said not to worry about had six varsity at-bats last year and has a bright future, according to Schafer.

"Hippler is going to be real good," he said, "We've had some good entelves, and he's a combination of Chuck (Archambeau) and (David) Viane. He works his tail off and has talent. By the time he's done, I think he'll be as good as we've ever had."

Farmington's strength could be its outfold, which has Gerwatowski and Baker as returning starters in center and left field, respectively.

Baker hit . 292 and Gerwa-

Baker hit .292 and Gerwatowski .225. Gerwatowski was tied for second on the team with 12 RBI, Baker had nine.

"Justin has great range, covering ground in center field, which we feel gives us a tromendous advantage," Schafer said. "Baker is doing a real good job and being a leader, not so much vorbally but with his actions. Ho's just been marvelous in that regard. He's hitting the ball well, and we know he'll play solid defense." Playing right field is junior James Clarahan, who moved here from Kansas. He had three of Farmington's seven hits in the doubleheader Thurnday.
"He has a really good swing and a strong arm," Schafer said. "He's going to be a player for us.

He can definitely play some baseball.

Sophomore Brad Barenie returns at second base after playing there all last season. He batted .224 with eight RBI and played well in the field.

"He's very smart, very into the game." Schafer said, adding Barenie is one of the team's best baserunners. "Ho's a heads-up player. He's not a guy you worry about. You make the lineup card and know he'll get the job done for you."

Kay, who batted 18 times last year and is slated to start at shortatop, has improved a lot, according to Schafer.

"Ho's a guy we hope will atep in and take ownership of that position." he said. "He's come a long way, both fielding and hitting. We're hoping for some big things from him."

Third base will be a position played by committee, Schafer added, McGrail, Avery, Klein and sophomore Ian Pardonnet, who is on the varsity and JV rosters, will share the job.

"Ho's the best pitcher in that class," said Schafer of Pardonnet, who we need to make sure he gets the innings he needs."
