Tune in to WJR 760 AM Friday morning to hear the winner announced!

Hawks capitalize on errors

Mistakes on a ball diamond will generally kill you.

Farmington Harrison pounced on Plymouth Salem's mistakes Wednesday to take a 3-2 victory from the Rocks in nine innings of softball.

"They key was they made six errors; we made one," Harrison canch Mike Teachman asid.
"But we played aggressively. We have the ball in play, though, and the start played because of back spasma.

Emmett went eight innings in her first start, allowing five hits, walking two and striking out who went 3-for-4 and reached on Harrison's only error.

The Hawks (3-0) scorod its first two runs on dropped fly balls. In the fifth, Harrison again was helped by two errors being sandwiched around a hit. Harrison hit into three flyouthrowout double plays and had an insurance run in the ainth thrown out at the plate.

CANTON A. R. FARRINGTON O: Jerrey Flaher J-Co) pickhed a three-bitter Wedresday for he visiting Chiefs, who are racked the 4 the relation of the control of

"For a coach and guy who knows the family, I've seen them grow into best frends as soniors. (Through their recent experience), I think All has realized what her sister has meant to her as a catcher and a friend."

Their competitiveness carries over to the classroom, according to Teachman. Both girls have 3.95 grade points, and they take the high-level classes, he added. The Aults also bring a lot of emotion to their athletic endeavors, and sometimes they show it with tears, which can be an outlet for frustration rooted in their competitiveness.

"I used to cry a lot in softball, and people would think of me as a haby." All said. "Somebody may think it's because I care so much and get angry.

"A lot of people think you're weak, but it's something that goes hand in hand with being so competitive," Art said. "Some people yell or throw thing, but that's the way we vent our anger."

that's the way we vent our anger."
In that regard, the sisters often act as a counter balance to the other, producing a calming offect, such as when Ari goes to the mound to talk with Ali.
"If she's starts to cry in a game, I'll get mad at her, and that takes her mind off it," Ari said. "Then she'll yell at me, and she'll be fine; she'll refocus then.

"If we get mad at each other, we're best friends the next minuto."

Unlike many siblings, the Aults spend a lot of time together and share a great deal in comer and share a great deal in common.

"We totally have the same interests — what we like to do, food, friends, the same taste in everything." All said.

The Aults, who discovered one day while walking home from middle school they had a crush on the same boy, are able to share the cost of clothes and even work at the same restaurant.

"Everybody at work says we even work at the same restaurant.

Everybody at work says we don't go anywhere without each other, 'Ar said.

I never have a problem with it, because I always have a friend," 'Ali said. 'I never go somewhere and not know anybody."

'On the downside, it's made us overly shy," Ari said. 'When we go to sports camps, we're not as outgoing as someone who goes there alone.

Following high school, both girls plan to go to college and hope to continue playing softball. Ali plans to be an clementary school teacher, and Ari wants to be an FBI agent.

'I just love kids," Ali said. 'We always baby-sat, and I think it would be fun to work with them all day."

"I was always a tomboy growing up," Ari said, adding she's thought about being a lawyer, too. "I always wanted to do something with the law. It just seems interesting."

The Aults haven't decided which college they will attend, but one thing seems certain, will be the same school, and they will be roommates.
"It would be pretty impossible to be apart that long," Ari said. Obviously, we'll have to do it someday when we get married, but it would be nice to do that another four years."

another four years.

BY THE NUMBERS: in her first three years as terrison's to. 1 pitcher, All Aut had a 20-24 record with a 2.10 survival and the second of the second of
