pleyer, and he's smart with the puck."

Jarrett 'is an offensive defenseman, one who can hope dilly replace Teelies or Mara. He has a real good point shot. It will be a need for the Whalers; for the last two seasons, Taelies and Mara have been defensive stalwarts who have anchored deed ally power-play unit with their strong blue-line play. As for as defense is concerned, Jarrett comes from good heckey bloodlines. His uncle is Mike List, who played goal mainly for St. Louis.

Jarrett, who measures 6-foot and 200 pounds, was the second of the Whalers two allowed underage selections; Weiss, who is 6-0, 165, was the first.

A European Draft will be held in July, which could further aid the Whalers.
There were some other interesting selections for the Whalers. In the 13th round (273rd overall), they chose defenseman shawn Goll, from Canton and the Junior B Wayne Wheels.
