PEGGY CAMERON KING

Foster-Pascoe Vows Spoken

Kathleen C. Pascoe and Daniel M. Foster were united in marriage recently in St. Eugene Catholic Church, Detroit. The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Pascoe, of Woodside Drive, Livonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Foster, of Detroit. The bride wore an A-line gown of sheer silk over peau-de-saute, with lace trim across the lower front and at the sweet-heart neckline. The gown also featured a well-shaped train and long sleeves. A large white bow in her hair held the bride's fingertip veil. Cheryl Angelo, cousin of the building, Schoolcraft and Levan. "It's Laughter, I'm After" is the title of Mrs. King's address. Author of the recently published Ladies, Please Come to Order! Mrs. King has written over 200 articles appearing in publications such as House Beautiful, Family Circle, Modern Bride and American Home. She began writing professionally 12 years ago and since then has taught adult classes in magazine writing and each year directs a workshop at Oakland University's Writers Conference. She calls her recent book "a facetious treatment of women's club" and was inspired to write it after many associations in clubwork both as a member and as a guest lecturer. There is no admission charge to Mrs. King's talk. Subsequent programs in Madonna's Women's World Series will host Sister Emil, RSM, Mrs. Lenore Romney, Muriel Bach and others.

Junior Goodwill's Annual Antique Sale In Progress

The 21st annual Junior Goodwill's antique market and sale opened Saturday, Nov. 9, in the Goodwill Industries Building, 5922 Brush, Detroit, and will continue through Tuesday, Nov. 12. Show hours are from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., with the exception of the last day when the closing hour is 6 p.m. The Annual Antiques Market traditionally features a selection of some of the finest dealers of the mid-west and east as well as the Goodwill Booth stocked with items contributed to the organization throughout the year. Junior Group members will operate the novel country store, pantry shelf, dining room and ice cream parlor. A number of special events will feature this year's show. The American Institute of Interior Decorators has designed a series of rooms to show how antiques may be used in various motifs. A fashion show will be presented during the lunch hour in the third floor dining room on Monday, and at 2 p.m. on Tuesday there will be a demonstration of Thanksgiving and Christmas decorations in the antique vein. Several areas of the show will feature Goodwill employees demonstrating some of their special skills and crafts. There will also be a display of Goodwill's industrial contract activities.

Donners Honeymoon In Poconos

The Pocono Mountain area in Pennsylvania was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donner after their candlelight wedding Friday, Oct. 11, in the Immanuel Baptist Church, Garden City. The bride is the former Ellen Partain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Partain, of Taylor. The bridegroom is the son of William Donner, former postmaster of Garden City, and Mrs. Donner. The Rev. James B. Allen conducted the double-ring ceremony.

THE BRIDE's full-length gown was white with pearl and sequin accents. The bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. A pearl crown adorned her elbow-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses with a white orchid in the center. Debbie Wenzel, of Inkster, wore a Nile green satin and chiffon gown for her role as maid of honor. Her headpiece and short veil matched the A-line gown, and she carried green fringed carnations and yellow roses. Annette Menard, of Inkster, was bridesmaid. She wore a similar gown in yellow and carried yellow carnations and roses.

LISA SMITH, of Westland, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and the ring bearer was Perry Davidson, of Garden City. Assisting the bridegroom as best man was Joe Ruber, of Garden City, and the ushers were Mike Nappo, of Allen Park; Jim Hains, of Lincoln Park; Chuck Smith, of Westland; Davey Lacy, of Inkster; and Bob Davidson, of Garden City. A reception in the church followed the wedding. The couple will live in Westland.
