A Family Works Together

Families that work together seem to get along better. For enduring family harmony, it is necessary to work together and support each other. Chores and responsibilities should be shared, and consideration for each other will help bond family members closer together.

Children should be lovingly taught at an early age about God, and that being a family means working together and helping each other whenever necessary. Just as a parent has things to do around a home, young children should be expected to help in some small way, perhaps by putting their toys away when they are finished playing.

As children grow older, they should accept additional responsibilities. Family meetings to read the Bible and discuss ways to help the family function better, can improve home life. Working together as a family is not always easy, but God honors and blesses those who work to make the family strong.

How wonderful it is, how pleasant, for God's people to live together in harmony!
