group's message and what you're looking for regarding volunteers, donations or other support.

If this sounds like a good idea, just pick up the phone and call Young today at (248) 473-7266, Ext. 14. And once you've come to our studio, the TV bug might just bite you and you'll be asking Young all kinds of questions on how your group can get started producing its own programs. Did you know we offer special TV production workshops for non-profit organizations? All you have to do is round up 10 of your members.

Non-profits also may avail themselves to the use of Channel 3, the Community Bulletin Board. You may announce fundraisers, church meetings, free seminars, reunions, etc. All you have to do is send your announcement to SWOCC - Community Bulletin Board Channel 3 at 24021 Research Drive, Farmington Hills, MI 48335.

If you're one of those national organizations where headquarters supplies you with public service announcements or other professionally produced video,

The next SWOCC meeting is at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 17, at Farmington City Hall.

don't let those tapes collect dust in the closet! Talk to Young about running them on your community TV Channel, INFO TV-12.

You see, we've got lots of ideas on how you can get your message out. So come on down! Start by being a guest on "Community Connection." Young is waiting for your call at (248) 473-7266, Ext. 14.

Mary Linda Calderone is the media relations specialist for the Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission. The next SWOCC meeting is at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 17, at Farmington City Hall. The next CAC meeting is at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 13, at SWOCC.

Teachers tour Edison plant

Parochial school teachers from southeastern Michigan were among a select group of 50 teachers who recently toured Detroit Edison's Monroe Power Plant, the third largest coal-fired plant in the world.

It was part of a three-day Educators' Workshop sponsored by the Detroit Edison Foundation to help teachers learn about fossil fuel, nuclear and solar power the utility uses to make electricity, as well as the company's environmental policies and research.

Girl Scout leader honored

Roseanne Jodway of Farmington Hills was honored for her outstanding volunteer services with the Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council. She was presented with the Thanks Badge, the highest award a Girl Scout volunteer can receive.

Jodway has been an exceptionally active and dedicated volunteer for more than 20 years. After graduating from high school and earning her Girl Scout First Class Award, Jodway became a troop leader and an active member of her neighborhood Girl Scout team. Her current interests are training adult Girl Scout volunteers and creating exciting programs for girls in middle and high school. She has been recently certified by Girl Scouts of the United States of America as an instructor of trainers.

When asked why being a Girl Scout volunteer was important, Jodway replied "Girl Scouting gives girls and adults a rich diversity of friends and experiences. It is important to me to help girls gain leadership skills and community service experiences that will last a life time."

Free meals available to students

Free meals are available to Farmington school district students who are 12 or younger, migrant children 18 or younger and any child enrolled in Head Start.

Meals are available through the school-district-sponsored Child and Adult Care Food Care Program.

This program is designed to provide meals to children in child care centers, outside school hours programs, and family day care homes.

No child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, sex, age or disability. Any person who believes that he has been discriminated against in this program should write to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.
