Lynn placed third at the WLAA meet in 20.40, then qualified eighth at the state meet preliminaries in 3:15.71.

"These four have competed in the tradition of Plymouth Salem free relays — and with two sophomores and a freshman, the future looks good!" said Olson.

SECOND TEAM

200 medley, Liv. Stevenson: The team of Bublitz, Nemer, sophomore Brandon Truscott and Buckler took second in the WLAA (1:39.03). Stevenson also took 10th in Class A (1:39.89).

"This relay team is very good, but will only get better next year with three of the guys returning," Buckler said. "Brad (Buckler) will be missed in the freestyle with his time of 21.35, which will be hard to duplicate. But we have three guys at 22.2, so we know with hard work, this group will make All-State next year."

200 freestyle, N. Farmington: The Raiders won the WLAA championship with the team of Sermet Alver, Clayson, DiGia and Zaid swimming a 1:30.06. DiGia, Zaid, Clayson and Farbar went 1:29.68 at the state meet, finishing 14th and having the second-best time behind Salem.

400 freestyle, Liv. Stevenson: The foursome of Ketterer, junior Robert Cambridge, senior Kevin VanTiem and Bublitz won the WLAA title with a time of 3:19.55 and clocked a 3:19.49 in the state meet prelims.

"This relay team swam really well," Buckler said. "They came on at the end of the year to win the league meet and qualify for the state meet.

"With three of the four coming back, this relay should score at the state meet next year if they train hard. Their potential is great.

"Bublitz went 46.4 on the anchor this year. I look forward to watching them next year."
