Easter Morning
After Jesus was crucified and placed in a tomb on the first Good Friday, the following Sunday morning some women went to the tomb with spices they had prepared for the body. They were concerned about how they would roll away the large stone at the entrance, but when they arrived, they saw that the stone was moved away from the entrance and the tomb was open. When they went inside, they discovered that Jesus was gone. Suddenly, two men clothed in shining robes, appeared before them. Their faces shone like angels, and one of them said, "Do not be afraid; you are looking for Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified and put to death. He is not here. He is risen from the dead, as He said He would. Come and see the place where He was laid and then go and tell His disciples that Jesus will go before you into Galilee and you shall see Him there."
In the days that followed, Jesus appeared to many different people, reflecting the message that the Messiah suffered, died, and rose again.
And after I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to myself, so that you will be where I am.
